

Financial Planning for Law Enforcement Officers

CLEET Accreditation #13-1468

October 19, 2015, 8:30 - 4:30, at the Fairfield Inn, 5700 NW Expressway, Oklahoma City

Where would you like to be financially in 5 years? 10 years? 20 years?

Picture that in your mind.

Now, what steps are you taking to get there?

Law Enforcement is a unique career. Those of us in it have devoted our lives to the service of others.

Unfortunately though, sometimes the cost of that devotion is the neglect of ourselves, and that is very true when it comes to our personal finances.

This 8-hour CLEET-accredited class will help law enforcement officers learn the important components of a comprehensive financial plan, with the goals of eliminating debt and creating and protecting wealth. It covers everything from the basics of budgeting and paying off debt to the various ways to invest and save for retirement. Attendees will leave this class with tools to better manage their family's finances.
