

PREP/ Adoption Support Program

Adoptive families deal with many stresses that can strain a marital relationship. Behavioral Health staff trained in PREP and Adoption issues provide Prevention and Relationship Enhancement classes that are specially adapted for adoptive families to strengthen their marital relationship skills. Child Guidance Service is a partner in a grant from the Administration for Children and Families to provide marriage education services to adoptive couples that have adopted children through the Department of Human Services