

Parenting Campaign: Seven Challenging Areas of Parenting Young Children

Developed by Oklahoma Child Development Specialists, curricula for workshops, parent handouts, promotional materials and news releases are elements of a parenting campaign around the 7 normal developmental issues in early childhood which can be most frustrating for parents. These issues have been identified as those most likely to lead to child abuse and include: Colic, Night Crying and Sleep Problems, Separation Anxiety, Toddlers' Push for Independence, Picky Eating, Toddler Exploration, and Toilet Training.
