The OCAST pipeline of programs includes support for manufacturers through the Oklahoma Manufacturing Alliance

The Oklahoma Manufacturing Alliance will host an Executive Lean Summit, Monday, September 20th in Norman. The Executive Lean Summit is a unique, one-day seminar with renowned Lean/Six-Sigma expert Dr. Richard Schonberger. It is an opportunity to have personal interaction with one of the world's top authorities on manufacturing. Because of the nature of Monday's event, seating is limited and reserved for manufacturing companies.

The Oklahoma Manufacturing Alliance will host their annual Oklahoma Conference on Manufacturing, Tuesday, September 21st in Norman. The conference features nationally-recognized speakers and educational workshops. It is our state's most important gathering of industry leaders and professionals. It offers a well-rounded series of educational and informational activities. Everyone is welcome!

Most importantly, these two events offer manufacturers the chance to learn from one another and set the agenda for economic growth and development in Oklahoma!

For more information and to register for this outstanding conference please visit: www.okalliance.com
