

Don't Miss Out! Register Now for Oklahoma Day with the Commissioner

Why did the community banking system that was so "well capitalized" heading into the recession suffer so badly? The events over the last few years are a reminder that "well capitalized" banks do not really have that much capital in terms of hard dollars and capital can disappear very quickly in tough economic times. Risk management needs to become more comprehensive and forward-looking, ensuring banks are positioned to maintain adequate capital through the economic cycle.

This forum will evaluate the challenges and opportunities of risk management for community banks and will include demonstrations of two models specifically developed for community banks. The regulatory landscape will be addressed as well as current banking trends and conditions in Oklahoma.

above: Bank Commissioner Mick Thompson and Graduate School of Banking at Colorado President, Tim Koch, at the 2010 Oklahoma Day with the Commissioner

APRIL 16, 2012
8:00 AM - 5:00 PM
JIM THORPE
MUSEUM
EVENT CENTER
4040 N. Lincoln Blvd.
Oklahoma City, OK

COST:
$395 per attendee
(includes continental breakfast, materials, and lunch)

Click here to Register Today!

Who Should Attend?

Bank Regulators	Chief Risk Officers
Bank Presidents	GSBC Alumni
CEOs	GSBC Students
CFOs	Senior Management