2. Amends 22 O.S. § 60.17 (protective orders in domestic abuse cases) to provide that a person subject to a protective order may be required to wear a GPS pending the results of the prosecution. Since this is before a disposition, the court must find ‘that the defendant has a history that demonstrates an intent to commit violence against the victim, including, but not limited to, prior conviction for an offense under the Protection from Domestic Abuse Act or any other violent offense, or any other evidence that shows by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant is likely to commit violence against the victim’. The court may order the defendant to pay the associated costs.

3. Amends 22 O.S. § 1105.3 to provide that a person eligible for pretrial release under this statute may be required to wear a global positioning sensor (GPS) and pay the associated costs.

SB 1921 (effective November 1, 2008) Amends 22 O.S. § 60.2 to provide that, in divorce cases in which a separate petition for a protective order is filed, the judge presiding over the divorce may also hear the petition for protective order if certain requirements are met.

SB 2004 (effective November 1, 2008) amends 22 O.S. § 984.1 to allow the inclusion of religious invocations or references in victim’s impact statements.

SB 2069 (effective November 1, 2008) enacts a new law, to be codified at 22 O.S. § 60.21 et seq., which provides a comprehensive scheme for enforcement of Domestic Violence Protection Orders from other states.

1. A person ‘authorized by the law of this state to seek enforcement of a protection order’ may seek enforcement of a valid foreign protection order in a tribunal of this state. The court is to follow Oklahoma procedure and is to enforce the order if it was issued ‘in response to a complaint, petition, or motion filed by or on behalf of an individual seeking protection’. The court may not enforce the order if it was ‘issued by a tribunal of a state that does not recognize the standing of a protected individual to seek enforcement of the order’.

2. The Oklahoma court is to enforce the provisions of a valid foreign protection order which govern ‘custody and visitation’, if the order was issued ‘in accordance with the jurisdictional requirements governing the issuance of custody and visitation orders’ in the issuing state.

3. A protection order from another state is valid if it ‘identifies the protected individual and the respondent’, is currently in effect, was issued by ‘a tribunal that had jurisdiction over the parties and subject matter under the law of the issuing state’, and ‘was issued after the respondent was given reasonable notice and had an opportunity to be heard’ or, in the case of an order ex parte, the respondent was ‘given notice and has had or will have an opportunity to be heard within a reasonable time’ after the order was issued, in a manner consistent with due process. A foreign protection order ‘valid on its face’ is prima facie evidence of its validity.

4. Oklahoma courts may enforce provisions of a ‘mutual foreign protection order which favor a respondent’ only if the ‘respondent filed a written pleading seeking a protection order’ and the ‘tribunal of the issuing state made specific findings in favor of the respondent’.

5. A law enforcement officer, upon determining that there is ‘probable cause’ to believe that a valid foreign protection order exists and that the order has been violated, shall enforce the order ‘as if it were the order of a tribunal of this state’. Presentation of a protection order that identifies both the protected individual and the respondent and, on its face, is currently in effect constitutes probable cause to believe that a valid foreign protection order exists. For the purposes of this section, the protection order may be ‘inscribed on a tangible medium’ or may have ‘been stored in an electronic or other medium if it is retrievable in perceivable form’. ‘Presentation of a certified copy of a protection order is not required for enforcement’. If a foreign protection order is not presented, a law enforcement officer of this state ‘may consider other information’ in determining whether there is probable cause to believe that a valid foreign protection order exists. If the Officer determines that an otherwise valid foreign protection order cannot be enforced because the respondent has not been notified or served with the order, the officer ‘shall inform the respondent’ of the order, make a ‘reasonable effort to serve the order’ upon the respondent, and allow the respondent a ‘reasonable opportunity to comply’ with the order before enforcing the order.

6. Registration or filing of an order in this state is not required for the enforcement of a valid foreign protection order pursuant to this act. A foreign protection order may be filed with the Secretary of State. The individual registering a foreign protection order ‘shall file an affidavit’ that the order is currently in effect. A foreign protection order registered under this act may be entered in any existing state or federal registry of protection orders, in accordance with applicable law.

7. Immunity is provided from civil and criminal liability for acts or omissions ‘arising out of the registration or enforcement of a foreign protection order’ or the ‘detention or arrest’ of an alleged violator of a foreign protection order if done ‘in good faith in an effort to comply’ with the act.

8. An individual who pursues remedies under this act is not precluded from pursuing other legal or equitable remedies against the respondent.

SB 1830 (effective February 28, 2008) amends 22 O.S. § 991a (sentencing powers of the Court) to extend the provisions for ‘post-imprisonment

2. Adds ‘certification for the imposition of an adult sentence’ to the list of reasons which may allow a Y.O. to be detained as an adult and incarcerated with the adult population.

3. Deletes the provision for a review hearing within 30 days of the youthful offender’s 18th birthday.

4. Changes references to the ‘Department of Juvenile Justice’ to the ‘Office of Juvenile Affairs’.

5. Changes sentencing rules to provide that the Y.O. is subject to the ‘same type of sentencing procedures and duration of sentence, except for capital offenses, including suspension or deferment, as an adult’ convicted of the same crime, with the exception that any sentence is to be served ‘in the custody or under the supervision of the Office of Juvenile Affairs’ until the expiration of the sentence, parole, discharge, or the Y.O. reaches 18 years of age, whichever occurs first. If the Y.O. reaches age 18 before the expiration of the sentence, the court has these options:
   a. return the Y.O. to the Office of Juvenile Affairs to complete a treatment program (up to age 18 and 5 months).
   b. incarcerate the Y.O. with the Department of Corrections. (The sentence cannot exceed the original sentence.)
   c. place the Y.O. on probation with the Department of Corrections.
   d. discharge the Y.O. from custody.

6. Probation will be supervised by the Office of Juvenile Affairs up to age 18, then by the Department of Corrections.

7. Adds a provision that the Court may issue orders consistent with treatment up to age 18 and 5 months.

8. Adds a provision that a Y.O. who is 17 or 18 years old may be detained in a county jail pending placement if the county jail meets the standards for juvenile offenders. A Y.O. who is 18 or older may be held in the general jail population.

9. Changes the requirement for court review of the sentence from semi-annual to annual.

10. Makes changes in the options available to the court at the time of the annual reviews. The options are:
a. Order the Y.O. discharged from custody and order dismissal and expungement of records.
b. Revoke probation and place the Y.O. in the custody of OJA, if under age 18.
c. Probation.
d. Place the Y.O. in a sanction program of the OJA, if under age 18.
e. Transfer the Y.O. to the custody or supervision of DOC. Such an order will be deemed an adult conviction.

2. Amends 57 O.S. § 258 to provide that a person or business who ‘offers or provides services to children’ must conduct a name search of employees at least annually ‘against the Sex Offender and Violent Crime Offenders registries’ and ‘all persons working with or providing services to children’ are required to sign a statement declaring that he or she is not currently required to register. Failure to conduct the annual name search is a misdemeanor with a fine of up to $1,000. The refusal of any person to sign the required statement is a misdemeanor, with a fine of up to $1,000, and the person ‘shall be immediately terminated’ from employment. Any person discovering a violation must immediately report it to the District Attorney.

3. Amends 57 O.S. § 593 to make the provisions of the Mary Rippy Violent Crime Offenders Registration Act (MRVCORA) apply to any person ‘residing, working or attending school in this state who is subsequently convicted of, or who receives a deferred judgment or suspended sentence for, any crime or attempted crime enumerated in subsection B of this section’.

The defendant does not have to register under the MRVCORA ‘if the defendant is required to register pursuant to any provision of the Oklahoma Sex Offenders Registration Act’ for the same offense.

9. If the judge determines the defendant should register, the defendant shall be ordered to register and to comply with all provisions of the Act.

10. Enacts a new section of law, to be codified at 57 O.S. § 599.1, which provides for access to these registries.

or resignation ‘in writing’ to the Director of CLEET. The Council may, by a majority vote, order the suspension or revocation of the CLEET certification of the peace officer.
