The Oklahoma Office of the Attorney General (OAG) is pleased to announce it will host Financial Investigations 101 from October 31 through November 1, 2023. This day-and-a-half long training will feature the U.S. Department of Justice's Money Laundering and Asset Recovery Section (MLARS), along with speakers from the OAG, the Oklahoma Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, and the Internal Revenue Service.

This free training will be at the Strata Tower at 123 Robert S. Kerr Avenue in Oklahoma City (formerly known as the SandRidge Building). The OAG will be seeking both Continuing Legal Education Credit from the Oklahoma Bar Association and credits through the Council on Law Enforcement Education and Training, which will be provided at no charge to attendees.

Request to attend the training here: <https://cvent.me/aYZVPq>. Registration will be open until October 13, 2023, and the OAG will notify all registered attendees by October 18.
