

Federal Bureau of Investigation Post Blast Investigator School

The FBI Post Blast Investigator School is a 40-hour course designed to enable students to conduct post blast crime scene investigations. The course provides an overview of the typical bombing devices and techniques encountered in most domestic bombings. It provides the students an opportunity to recover fragments from actual improvised explosive devices. The students also learn the safety and evidence handling issues related to searching the premises where the IED may have been assembled.

Send an email from your government agency account with your CLEET number to the below POC to request a seat in the class.

Location: 36°21'45.1"N 96°51'35.2"W

Dates: October 2-6, 2023 (beginning at 8:00 AM on Monday, ending at 4PM on Friday)

Cost: No cost to attend (travel and per diem not included)

Target audience: Local, State, and Federal law enforcement investigators

Lodging: Acquired individually by each student.

Attire: Outdoor range gear required, as typically the first half of each day is classroom with the second half spent at the explosives range conducting practical exercises. You will get your hands dirty.

Point of Contact: Special Agent Bomb Technician Matt Chenevey, (858)583-0391, mwchenevey@fbi.gov. Contact to reserve a seat.