Introduction

By Becky Lawmaster

The Oklahoma Community Sentencing Act was implemented in pilot councils in March 2000. As of June 30, 2013, the community sentencing system had been operational on a statewide basis for 13 full years. At the conclusion of FY 2013 29 funded councils, encompassing 46 counties, were participating.

Community Sentencing is a “cents-able” community punishment and a proven investment in public safety.

Statewide Participation

The Oklahoma Community Sentencing Act provides for each county to establish a community sentencing system, however, active participation and the request for funding remain optional. During FY 2013 funding was provided for 29 sentencing systems. Of those, 19 were single county and 10 were multi-county systems. The 29 sentencing systems, or planning councils, encompass 46 of the state's 77 counties. Figure 1 depicts participating counties.
