

The McAlester Fire Department in conjunction with the Pittsburg County Southeast Tobacco Free Oklahoma Coalition was on hand at Jefferson Early Childhood Center to greet parents, family and children attending scheduled parent and teachers meetings Thursday afternoon. The coalition handed out literature about the dangers and how to stop tobacco use and the fire department handed out free smoke detectors to those needing them along with demonstration on proper use and location of them. Pictured from left are, McAlester Fire Fighter Robby Rivers, Sandra Atkins and MFD Lt. Benny Brooks as they look over the inside of a smoke detector.

Staff Photo by KEVIN HARVISON

Smoke Detectors

The McAlester Fire Department in conjunction with the Pittsburg County Southeast Tobacco Free Oklahoma Coalition was on hand at Jefferson Early Childhood Center to greet parents, family and children attending scheduled parent and teachers meetings Thursday afternoon. The coalition handed out literature about the dangers and how to stop tobacco use and the fire department handed out free smoke detectors to those needing them along with demonstration on proper use and location of them. Pictured from left are, McAlester Fire Fighter Robby Rivers, Sandra Adkins and MFD Lt. Benny Brooks as they look over the inside of a smoke detector.