A town hall forum on underage drinking will be 6-8 p.m. April 3 in the Lowry Room of the Norman Public Library.

"Keeping Norman's Youth Safe and Healthy," will be hosted by the Cleveland County Turning Point Underage Drinking Prevention Subcommittee.

A panel of speakers will discuss education, environment, enforcement and counseling/recovery pertaining to underage drinking within the community of Norman. Refreshments will be provided.

There also will be a short discussion on what people can do as a community, as a parent, as a business owner, etc. to deter the youth of Norman from drinking while underage.

A prize raffle will follow the discussion. An iPod and several other door prizes will be given away.

For further information, call Emily Furney at 364-3800 or e-mail efurney@unitedway-norman.org or call Alex Hart-Smith at 579-2257 or e-mail alexandh@health.ok.gov.
