About Us...

Creek County Interagency meets monthly bringing in speakers to talk about the hot topics in the county. In 2009, Human Trafficking awareness, tobacco prevention, presentation on The Perfect Storm, First offender program are just a few of the hot topics.

The Interagency is constantly working on teen female issues by providing mentoring through an afterschool club, literacy with adults, understanding disabilities, clothing closet, food distribution, bullying, child abuse prevention, tobacco prevention and systems of care. Creek County Youth Services along with members of the interagency hosted their first Celebrate Family Fun Night. This event created interest in Creek County services and programs. It was held in Liberty Park in Sapulpa. Free food and prizes were given away.

Oilton Task Force started the coalition in March of 2009. They jumped fast on board working with Creek County youth services with the First Offender program and assisted the Youthful Hope Camp for at-risk youth. They started working on the Community Needs Survey and are still continuing the survey. However, current results are not surprising.
