

Question Addendum	Question	Answer
Submission May 1	Is all the narrative to be contained within attachment A? I envision it distributed as narrative sections within each appropriate tab, reviewing the relevant information to that section of the application. If that's not correct, where should the narrative be, and should it be tabbed within the sections it refers to?	The Narrative can be a separate section from Attachment A.
Submission May 1	Should the 17 pages of the attachment A form be kept together, followed by the tabs identifying the narrative explaining each of the required sections? That's how I did it last year, but it occurs to me the relevant pages of the Attachment A form could be inserted behind the tabs for each section.	Attachment A should be kept together, followed by the identifying tabs.
Submission May 1	If each page of the attachment A form should be contained behind its associated tab, should the pagination be corrected for the entire document?	See Above
Submission May 1	To further clarify, could you describe the organization of a properly completed packet, explaining the order of the documents?	Refer to the pages 7-9 of the Document entitled Special Provisions. See Pages 7-9 which describes the Instructions to Suppliers, the submission order, and the Proposal Submission Checklist.
