Summary of Stroke Death Trends Across the U.S.

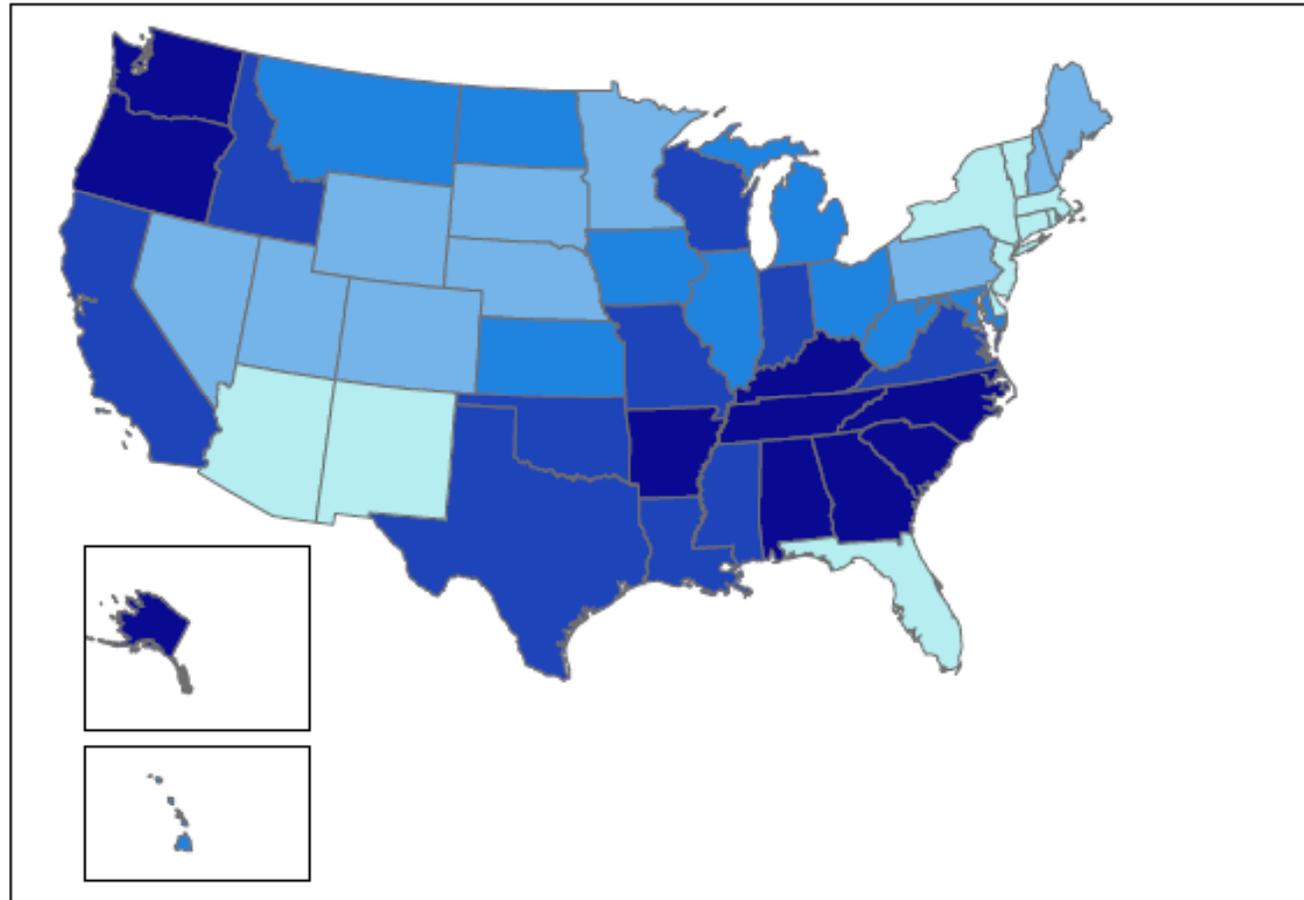

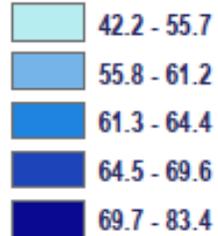

Stroke death rates decreased across the country from 1999 to 2007. However, Oklahoma went from having the 11th highest stroke death rate in the country in 1999 to being tied with Tennessee for having the 3rd highest in 2007. Two other states in the stroke belt, Arkansas and Alabama, were the only two states that had higher stroke death rates than Oklahoma in 2007.
