

The Seminole Coalition has been in existence for several years and is a partner with the Oklahoma Turning Point Initiative. The mission of the SCCA Coalition is to teach, link, advocate, and refer in order to improve the quality of life for community members, businesses and organizations in Seminole County.

The SCCA has worked on strengthening the structure of the coalitions and broadening its membership. The SCCA has outlined the following priority areas: Health and Wellness; Economics; Substance Abuse and Mental Health; Crime and Violence Prevention; Community Collaboration; and Cultural Diversity. Although the county has a population of less than 20,000, the citizens and coalition members are committed to setting benchmarks and piloting programs that are beneficial to all citizens and centered around the priority areas.

The SCCA Coalition is comprised of representatives from state agencies, tribal government, faith communities, educational institutions, mental health organizations, civil organizations, private companies, and local officials.

Seminole County Community Alliance held its MAPP (Mobilizing for Action through Planning and Partnerships) kick-off in April of 2014. The coalition members did a awesome job by sharing the task of inviting people from around the county. Approximately 75 people were in attendance.

They came together to share the positives and the negatives occurring in their county. The Coalition enjoyed the feedback from the citizens and business owners. Based on this input, the coalition is working on establishing a vision statement, followed by local assessments that will better help the community prioritize the issues at hand.

Seminole County is progressing greatly in their priority areas. The coalition and the community are dedicated to creating a state and county of good health.
