The Resource Directory for Head Injury and Other Conditions was first developed by Ruth Azeredo and the Traumatic Neurologic Injury Advisory Council and other partners in 2007. The original Directory was reviewed by individuals selected for their expertise and differing perspectives representing patients and families, the Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH), Oklahoma State Department of Education, Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse, Department of Human Services, hospitals, and other organizations and agencies. It has been updated in 2011 to reflect current resource availability.

Introduction and Background of Head Injury

Purpose and Use of Resources and Services Directory

The intent of the directory is to help individuals, families, and providers know what resources and services are available in the state of Oklahoma for head injury and other conditions, and how they may seek referral or obtain them directly. The need for such a document became readily apparent while responding to the many inquiries and requests for information related to head injury, immediate and long term services, and disability-related social and employment issues. Although developed for persons who sustained a brain injury and their families, the directory is useful for persons with other conditions, persons with disabilities, and the general population. The agencies, organizations, and the broad array of health and social services citizens may need are included in the directory. The services are organized by the phases or continuum of care that patients and families may encounter following an injury event, from prehospital to acute and rehabilitative care to the broad array of community life services.

Substantial information is devoted to specific populations such as children, Native Americans, veterans, and the organizations that provide basic health and social services to improve daily living. The accessibility and availability of services in Oklahoma vary by geographic region, resources, and the distribution of professionals and other providers. The resource needs of children 18 years and younger were highlighted in a recent follow up study of children with head injury which helped to determine need for short- and long-term rehabilitation, information about special education, and transitional services to higher education and work.

The directory was first completed in 2006 after review and input by colleagues and members of the Advisory Council and Task Force. The Directory Committee assisted with distribution of materials. Information in the directory is updated periodically and includes all aspects of care and the services that may be needed and requested by persons with traumatic brain injury and other conditions. Because each individual, family, or provider wants information specific to their area(s) of need, individual sections may be requested by calling the Injury Prevention Service (405/271-3430) or information may be downloaded from the IPS web page (http://ips.health.ok.gov). If there are further questions after reviewing the information, individuals may contact the Traumatic Brain Injury Program.

Contact information for direction listings is subject to change.

Resources & Services Directory for Head Injury, Injury prevention Service, OSDH
Definition of Selected Terms

Abbreviated Injury Scale (AIS) – Abbreviated injury scale (AIS) scoring was developed by the Association of Automotive Medicine, initially for the purpose of assessing survival following motor vehicle crashes. It is a standardized system for categorizing injury type and severity. Although AIS is based on anatomical injury, it includes physiologic measures as injury descriptors, such as occurrence and length of loss of consciousness, amount of bleeding, etc. AIS 1 is not consistent with the definition of traumatic brain injury. AIS 2 is moderate injury. AIS is serious injury. AIS 4 severe injury, and AIS 5 critical injury. AIS 6 is a nonsalvageable injury.

Americans with Disability Act (ADA) – The ADA is a federal act that was passed in 1990 to prohibit discrimination against persons with disabilities, including brain injury, in the areas of:
- Public accommodations such as building and sidewalk accessibility
- Employment
- Transportation
- State and Local Government Services
- Telecommunications

Assault – An act of violence resulting in injury.

Case Management – Facilitating the access of a patient to appropriate medical, rehabilitation and support programs, and coordination of the delivery of services. This role may involve liaison with various professionals and agencies, advocacy on behalf of the patient, and arranging for purchase of services where no appropriate programs are available.

Cognitive Ability – The ability to accumulate and retain new knowledge.

Cognitive Rehabilitation – Therapy which helps persons in the management of problems in perception, memory, thinking, attention, judgment and problem solving. Skills are practiced and strategies devised/taught to improve function and compensate for deficits. The interventions are based on an assessment and understanding of the person’s brain-behavior deficits. Services are provided by qualified practitioners.

Community re-entry/integration – Services to prepare client to enter community knowing where and how needed services may be obtained.

Community Resources – Public or private agencies, schools or programs offering services to the public. They are usually funded by government agencies, community initiatives, donations and fees.

Community Skills – Those abilities needed to function independently in the community. They may include: telephone skills, money management, pedestrian skills, use of public transportation, meal planning and cooking.
Compensation Technique – A method of working around a functional impairment by using techniques designed to help a person with a disability overcome the impairment (for example, for memory impairment, a person uses a calendar or notebook to record information).

Competitive Employment – Work in the competitive labor market that is performed on a full-time or part-time basis in an integrated setting; and for which the individual is compensated at or above, but not less than, the minimum wage.

Computed Tomography – CT scanning is the most common imaging modality used initially for the diagnosis and medical management of head-injured patients. CT scan evaluates presence or absence of intracranial hemorrhage and osseous injuries, and has relatively low cost.

Day program – A non-residential program of services intended to increase the functional ability of the consumer through therapeutic intervention and supervised activities. These services facilitate community integration.

Depression - A state of disorder marked by sadness, inactivity and self-depreciation.

Disability (Many medical, economic, and social definitions) - Limitation in performing tasks, activities and roles in the manner or within the range considered normal for persons of the same age, gender, culture, and education. The expression of a physical, mental, or sensory limitation in a social context; the gap between a person's capabilities and the demands of the environment. Includes developmental disability, and disability related to chronic disease, injury and secondary conditions.

Disability Rating Scale (DRS) – The DRS evaluates the person on 8 categories of disability and scores his or her functioning areas that include, among others:

- Level of arousal, awareness, and responsiveness
- Cognitive skills needed for self-care activities
- Dependence on others
- Psychosocial adaptability, which includes flexibility and the ability to adapt to different people and situations. The highest possible score is 30 points. In this scale, a lower score is better.

Evaluation in a Workshop Setting – A process whereby the client’s work potential is assessed in a controlled area using simulated or actual job tasks to assess ability to relate to demands of the work environment and perform adequately. Has the following characteristics: 1) client may not be paid; 2) client is exposed to tasks on which performance can be assessed; 3) client’s performance is supervised and evaluated in coordination with the evaluation staff; and 4) existence of established evaluation program.

Emergency medical services system – An organized system that provides personnel, facilities and equipment for the coordinated delivery of health care services in a specific geographical area under emergent conditions.
Epidemiology – The study of the distribution and determinants of health and disease (including injuries) in populations.

- It is a component of public health and constitutes the scientific methods used to reason about the cause and natural course of disease or conditions.
- Epidemiologic research incorporates statistical techniques with an understanding of biological, behavioral and social mechanisms important in disease occurrence and spread.
- Utilizes group/aggregate data; numerator-denominator oriented.

Epidemiologic Measures

Rate
Measures the risk of acquiring the injury/disease (incidence) in a certain time interval:
- Numerator (New cases in a time interval)
- Denominator (Population at risk of developing disease or being injured at the beginning of the time interval).

Surveillance
The ongoing systematic collection, analysis and interpretation of health/injury data needed to plan, implement, and evaluate programs.

Incidence
Measures risk of disease or injury in a population.

Prevalence
Measures the burden of disease or injury within a population.

Evaluation On-The-Job – Has the characteristics: 1) the client is not necessarily paid; 2) it is primarily for the client’s benefit; 3) it will not necessarily result in employment; 4) the employer does not experience immediate gain; 5) the client does not displace or fill any vacant worker slots; and, the client’s performance is supervised and evaluated by the employer and/or the evaluation staff. The client is given the opportunity to experience the specific requirements necessary to do the specific job in an actual job setting.

Follow up – Vocational – Supportive assistance during the initial stage of a new program or job placement and which may determine to what degree the past and present program is adequate in meeting client needs and/or ascertain the readiness of clients to benefit from new programs.

Family Services – Services provided by a social worker or counselor to assist family (and patient) counseling in coping with the particular disease/condition of a client.

Functional Assessment – An evaluation that determines how well a person with a disability can perform specific job-related duties. The assessment may be done at a mock job setting or in an actual job setting during a period of several days.

Functional Limitation – Any restriction or lack of ability to perform an activity in the manner or within the range considered normal for a human being, which is chronic or permanent in nature, and/or which is judged to be a cultural, social, economic, and/or environmental disadvantage.
Glasgow Coma Score (GCS) – Developed by Teasdale and Jennett

Use of three items proven to be the most sensitive measures of severity of head injury and predictors of immediate outcome. (There is no absolute measure of what constitutes a severe injury.) The GCS measures eye opening (4 points), best motor response (6 points), and verbal response (5 points).

Long Term Acute Care Hospital/Center – A long term acute care (LTAC) hospital differs from acute care hospitals in three basic ways. First, length of stay (LOS) must be an average of 25 days based on a predetermined Diagnosis Related Group (DRG). Patients are discharged to LTACs as available when they need extended LOS and intensive medical services. Second, reimbursement for patients in LTACs is based on actual costs up to the TEFRA target. The TEFRA rate is determined by Cost Base/Medicare discharge which is controlled by the Balanced Budget Act of 1997. Long term acute care hospitals have an average length of stay (LOS) of 25 days. They provide 6.5 to 8.5 nursing hours per day based on acuity (amount of nursing time needed to assist/teach patients in activities of daily living (ADL) such as eating, grooming, and toileting.) The acuity of therapy is based on diagnosed need and patient tolerance. There are no maximums or minimums by guidelines and not all patients receive therapy. Type of patients served are ventilator dependent and medically complex patients. Long term acute care hospitals have an average length of stay (LOS) of 25 days. They provide 6.5 to 8.5 nursing hours per day based on acuity (amount of nursing time needed to assist/teach patients in activities of daily living (ADL) such as eating, grooming, and toileting.) Patients are usually discharged to home with family or Home Health, nursing home, a skilled nursing facility (SNF), assisted living, or rehabilitation.

Long term care facility/nursing home – A facility which provides 24-hour nursing care prescribed by a physician.

Medicaid – A medical assistance program that helps people who cannot afford to pay for their medical care. Medicaid is a joint federal/state funded program and covers a majority of people on low incomes, including pregnant women, senior adults, and persons with disabilities. Provided under Title XIX of the Social Security Act of 1966.

skilled nursing facility following a hospital stay, and hospice care. Part B helps pay for doctor’s services, outpatient hospital care, diagnostic tests, ambulance services, and medical equipment. The hospital insurance system and the supplementary medical insurance for disabled or aged persons created by the 1965 amendments to the Social Security Act of 1966.

Memory – Long Term – Refers to recall thirty minutes or longer after presentation. Requires storage and retrieval of information which exceeds the limit of short-term memory.

Natural Work Supports – Assistance provided to a person with a disability through means that already exist in a workplace (for example, a co-worker is a partner to the person with a disability).

Outcome – Refers to status of the injured at specific points in time. May refer to survival/no survival, or any measure of physical/mental/emotional/social effects post injury.

Psychological Services for TBI survivors that include cognitive retraining, management counseling of behavior, and the development of coping skills by the client and members of the family.

Pre-vocational – Providing basic training in tasks of specific jobs to individuals as training part of rehabilitation.

Program – A set of activities applied to preventing/educating on disease or injury; includes a plan, design, funding, implementation and evaluation.

Quality of Life – The total well being of an individual (usually as perceived by the individual), encompassing both physical and psychosocial determinants. A rating of what kind of existence a person experiences. In estimating the quality of life, elements include performance of societal roles, physical status, emotional status, social interactions, intellectual functioning, economic status, support systems and health status. Additional considerations are mobility and activities of daily life, living arrangements, social relationships, work and leisure activities, present satisfaction and future prospects.

Reasoning – Problem-Solving – The ability to analyze information related to a given situation and generate appropriate response options. Problem-solving is a sequential process that typically proceeds by: identification of the problem; generation of response options; evaluation of response option appropriateness; selection and testing of first option; and analysis as to whether solution has been reached.

Memory – A type of cognitive therapy where skills are taught/learned to compensate or improve short-term memory.

Remediation – A method of compensation in which an internal system is created to enable one to function. It assumes that a potential exists to add a repertoire of skills, and that given the appropriate teaching strategies, learning can and will occur.

Residential living – Living in a supervised home while learning to function as independently as possible in order to return to one’s own home or live in a place with minimal or no supervision.

Background of Traumatic Head Injury

Introduction. Injury to the brain has been with us since the beginning of humankind. Despite protection by the skull, the head is vulnerable to injury because of its size and exposure to objects, weapons, and falls. In past centuries, the main causes of head injury were accidents, assaults, conflicts and wars. Care of these injuries was complicated by limited knowledge and the lack of diagnostic and treatment methods. Many people suffered a variety of long-term effects they and their families had to “live with.”

Over time the causes and sequelae of brain injury have become prominent among conditions that affect many people. In the 20th and 21st centuries, recreation, sports, and the risks associated with industrialization and technology have contributed to increasing numbers of injuries. Recognition and documentation of the after effects of brain injury have increased dramatically since the Six-day War in the Middle East during the 1960s when cognitive and behavioral long-term effects were studied among persons serving in the military. During the past 20 years, brain injury has evolved as a special focus among policy-makers, agencies, and health professionals. The 1990’s were declared the Decade of the Brain by President Reagan.

Background. Traumatic brain injury (TBI) is defined as a physiological disruption of brain function resulting from trauma that is either external, such as an object striking the head or the head striking an object, and/or internal, such as rapid acceleration/deceleration or rotation of the brain within the skull as in a car crash. The injuries may be open (skull penetrated) or closed (skull intact). Damage to the brain may interrupt connections within the brain affecting any part of the body. Present-day conflicts have resulted in thousands of military personnel sustaining severe local penetrating injuries and/or diffuse injuries (affecting all of the brain) that occur during blasts or explosions. The brain and the results of injury are very complex. Problems people may have after injury mainly depend on the part(s) of the brain that was injured, seriousness of the injury, if the person had other body injuries, age, their state of health, and how quickly they received treatment.

Number of People Affected. In the United States each year, an estimated one million people with TBI are treated and released from emergency rooms, about 260,000 are hospitalized, 51,000 die, and 80,000 to 90,000 have moderate to severe disabilities. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimates that 5.4 million people live with a traumatic brain injury-related disability. The risk of having a traumatic brain injury is substantial among all age groups, particularly adolescents and young adults, affecting relationships, work, school, and daily living. Many families suffer emotional and economic problems because of the costs involved in acute and long term care, rehabilitation, lost productivity, and ongoing health care needs. Presently, the leading causes of traumatic brain injury are motor vehicle crashes, violence, and falls. The increasing numbers of blast and other hearing/vision-related brain injuries sustained by service members in theatres of war are a national and local challenge for veterans health care and the communities the veterans return to following intensive acute and rehabilitative care.

Oklahoma is one in a group of states with the highest death rates from traumatic brain injury. According to data collected since 1992, an average of 3400 persons are hospitalized and 850 die from a brain injury each year. The causes of injury include motor vehicle crashed (32%), falls (31%), gunshot injuries (11%), assaults (8%), sports (4%) pedestrian (3%) and other causes (11%). An estimated 700 persons are discharged each year from the hospital with short- or long-term limitations and disabilities such as cognitive problems, sensory deficits, physical limitations, or behavior problems.

The main factors that determine survival and functional outcome for a person with brain injury are the extent of damage alone or in association with other traumatic injuries, immediate and appropriate medical diagnosis and treatment, and the prevention or control of secondary injuries to the brain such as swelling and infection.

The severity of injury is the best predictor of how far a person will move along the continuum of recuperation. Length of coma (LOC) is a reliable marker for judging injury severity and is measured by the time that has elapsed from injury to the time the person wakes up. In cases of minor brain injury, there may be no LOC, but in many cases LOC can last for minutes, hours, days, weeks, or years. Persons may also be confused for periods of time after they become conscious. The length of time they are confused is called post-traumatic amnesia (PTA). PTA is considered the second best marker of the severity of brain injury. With mild injury, the majority of people recover completely in 3 to 9 months without residual effects; however many have problems for a longer time and some for their lifetime. With moderate injury, a large proportion of persons with TBI become independent although many do not return to their level of functioning prior to injury. With severe injury, a small percentage of persons return to school, work, or are able to perform the activities they performed before injury. The majority of persons achieve some level of independence.

Residual or After Effects of Traumatic Brain Injury
The types of problems people may experience following brain injury largely depends on the part(s) of the brain injured and the severity of injury. The figure below shows functions of the brain that may be affected.

Functional Domains of the Brain
The three main types of problems that may be experienced by a person with traumatic brain injury are: 1) motor (body weakness or paralysis), or sensory deficits (vision, hearing, smell, touch); 2) cognitive such as impairments in language, verbal memory, perception, attention, slow information processing, and poor judgment; and 3) neurobehavioral, that includes impulsivity, agitation, inappropriate emotions, and poor frustration tolerance.

Rehabilitation provided in a hospital or rehabilitation center, when the person is in condition to benefit from therapies, helps a person to recover more rapidly. For most people with moderate to severe injuries, major gains are commonly made during the first two years after injury and more slowly after that. The person with the injury and the family should learn as much as possible about therapies and how to assist in recovery, particularly because resources and services needed over the long term are not available, so the family may have to provide ongoing care.

The Importance of Prevention

The three types of prevention are primary, secondary and tertiary:

Primary prevention involves the acquisition of habits and actions that will reduce the possibility of injury including:
- Use of protective equipment such as safety belts and helmets,
- Legislative controls related to vehicle condition, speed, roadways and condition of the driver,
- Knowledge and use of safety behaviors related to risks and hazards,
- Knowledge and use of appropriate environmental modifications, and
- Avoiding substance use.

Secondary prevention relates to:
- Prevention of secondary injuries through appropriate prehospital care and minimizing complications during acute hospital care,
- Prevention of additional brain injuries through knowledge of increased susceptibility (one of seven persons who experience a head injury is likely to suffer one or more head injuries), and use of primary prevention actions,
- Prevention of secondary conditions associated with the primary condition such as contractures, and treatment and/or education for preventing or controlling secondary conditions.

Tertiary prevention is the prevention of further impairment or disability and includes:
- Maintaining overall health status through good nutrition, exercise, taking care of personal, family and social needs, and using coping and adaptation skills,
- Assessing functional status periodically to intervene medically as needed, and
- Maintaining maximum functional independence given injury severity, overall health status and pre-injury level of function.
Disability
There are many definitions of disability but they all relate to a limitation in performing tasks, activities, and roles in the manner or within the range considered normal for persons of the same age, gender, culture, and education. Disability may refer to a physical, mental, sensory, or behavioral condition.

Approximately 35 million people in the United States have disabling conditions that interfere with their life activities. More than nine million people have physical or mental conditions that keep them from working, attending school, or maintaining a household. Annual disability-related costs to the nation total more than $170 billion. Oklahoma ranks fifth in the nation in the proportion of citizens who report one or more disabilities. A large number of people in Oklahoma are living with traumatic brain injury-related functional limitations or disabilities.

We hope that this directory of resources will help many people obtain assistance and the services they need in order to live as close to the level of independence they maintained prior to injury.

Section 2: Accessing and Paying for TBI and Related Services
Accessing and Paying for TBI and Related Services

Access
Access to services involves referral by a physician/other professional or self referral, the ability to get to the centers, programs or offices that provide services, and the ability to pay for the services by one or more methods. The majority of brain-injured persons enter the care system via emergency medical services or the emergency/trauma department; these assured services are often not paid by people without insurance or with limited resources. In Oklahoma, the Trauma Care Assistance Revolving Fund helps compensate the hospitals for the costs of caring for these individuals. Referral and coordination of brain injury services has improved with increased awareness, information, and maturity of the brain injury services system.

Several state and local agencies that serve as points of entry for particular services include the Oklahoma Department of Education/Special Education; Oklahoma Department of Health, Vocational Rehabilitation and employment one-stop centers, tribal health centers, etc.; these agencies are described within specific sections of the directory. Individuals and families wanting to access services need to know the services available, referral sources, and the types of services that are appropriate for their particular case.

Payment Methods
Each phase of brain injury service delivery - emergent, acute, rehabilitative and ongoing care - contributes to the high costs. Commercial insurance and Medicare are the principal payers of hospital charges for brain injury. Many insured individuals with serious to severe injury find that costs exceed coverage and that personal funds are not adequate for the services needed, so they become dependent upon government sources for further care.

Medicare and Medicaid

Medicare is a Federal Health Insurance Program for people 65 years of age and older, some people with disabilities under age 65, and people with end-stage renal disease. It provides acute care coverage for persons 65 years and older and for some people who are covered by Social Security Disability (SSDI) benefits. Medicare has two parts: Part A is hospital insurance and Part B is medical insurance. Most people do not have to pay for Part A and the majority of people pay monthly for Part B.

In Part A, Medicare coverage is limited to services considered “reasonable and necessary” for the diagnosis and treatment of illness or injury. Services include inpatient hospital stays, critical access hospitals, skilled nursing facility care, home health care services, and hospice care.

In Part B, Medicare helps pay for physician services, hospital outpatient services, ambulatory surgery, and diagnostic and laboratory tests. Coverage is also provided for limited outpatient physical, occupational and speech therapy services and medical equipment and supplies.

Medicaid is a joint federal and state entitlement program that provides funding for medical benefits to low-income individuals who have inadequate or no health insurance coverage.
Medicaid guarantees coverage for basic health and long-term care services based on income and/or resources. Created as Title XIX of the Social Security Act in 1965, Medicaid is administered at the federal level by the Centers of Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) within the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). CMS establishes and monitors certain requirements concerning funding, eligibility standards, and quality and scope of medical services. States have the flexibility to determine some aspects of their own programs, such as setting provider reimbursement rates and the broadening of the eligibility requirements and benefits offered within certain federal parameters. The Oklahoma Health Care Authority (OHCA) is responsible for administering Medicaid Services in the state of Oklahoma (405/522-7300; www.okhca.org).

Eligibility. In exchange for federal financial participation, states agree to cover certain groups of individuals referred to as “mandatory groups” and offer a minimum set of services referred to as “mandatory benefits.” States also can receive federal matching payments to cover additional optional groups of individuals and provide additional optional services. Federal matching payments through Medicaid often allow states to partially finance the cost of services that states have traditionally provided at their expense or to pay for services that otherwise might be written off by providers as bad debt or charity.

According to Oklahoma State Statutes Title 63 Sec. 5009, the OHCA contracts with the Oklahoma Department of Human Services (OKDHS) for the determination of Medicaid eligibility. All applications for Oklahoma Medicaid enrollment are processed and approved or denied by OKDHS. Applications and renewals are reviewed by each county of residence OKDHS office for financial and/or medical requirements. After eligibility has been certified or extended, the records are sent to OHCA to coordinate medical services and process payments for services utilized.

Title XIX of the Social Security Act requires that in order to receive federal matching funds, certain basic services must be offered to the categorically needy population in any state program. Each state has a plan that describes the groups of individuals who can receive Medicaid services and the services that the state will make available to them.

Federally Mandated Services include:
- Early Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment (EPSDT) under age 21 years.
- Family planning services and supplies

Sometimes you may have to spend down your personal resources before you qualify. Applications for Medicaid are obtained at the county offices in Oklahoma.

Home and Community-Based Services Waivers give states the flexibility to develop and implement creative alternatives to placing Medicaid-eligible individuals in institutions such as long-term care hospitals, nursing facilities, or intermediate care facilities for person with mental retardation. The OKDHS is responsible for and administers five Home and Community-Based Services waivers. The two waivers that may relate to persons with TBI are:

- The Community Waiver serves Medicaid beneficiaries with mental retardation and certain persons with “related conditions.” It covers children and adults, with a minimum age of three years; and
- The ADvantage waiver serves the frail elderly (65 years and older) and adults 21 years of age or older with physical disabilities who would otherwise qualify for placement in a nursing facility.

Social Security Act
The Social Security Act passed in 1935 was “an act to provide for the general welfare by establishing a system of Federal old-age benefits, and by enabling the several States to make more adequate provision for aged persons, blind persons, dependent and crippled children, maternal and child welfare, public health, and the administration of their unemployment compensation laws; to establish a Social Security Board; to raise revenue; and for other purposes.”

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)
Social Security Disability Insurance is wage replacement income for those who pay FICA taxes when they have a disability meeting Social Security disability rules. SSDI provides a variety of payments to family members when a primary wage earner becomes disabled or dies. SSDI is funded with Social Security taxes paid by workers, employers, and self-employed persons.
FICA taxes are withheld from an individual’s salary to fund Social Security and Medicare programs. This federal government insurance provides basic protection against the loss of income due to disability. Benefits may be provided to both the worker with disability and to family members, including children. The number of work credits needed to qualify for SSDI depends on the age of disability onset. There is usually a five-month waiting period after the person has met the requirements for disability. The amount of SSDI payment is based on the person’s lifetime average earnings covered by social security and on other government payment received. SSDI provides a monthly payment to eligible persons with disability defined as:

A physical or mental impairment which prevents an individual from performing any substantial gainful activity and which is expected to last at least one year or result in death. Substantial gainful activity is not necessarily the kind of work the individual performed prior to the disability.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
This federal government insurance provides monthly payments to people who are older, disabled or blind and who meet specific income or resources requirements. SSI eligibility considers the individuals’ income and property (homes are not excluded). People who receive SSI may be eligible to apply for Medicaid and food stamps.

Workers Compensation Commission
Workers compensation law is administered by the Oklahoma Workers’ Compensation Commission. The law was written to protect workers by providing compensation for the loss of earning capacity resulting from accidental injury, disease, or death during employment. The law provides medical and vocational rehabilitation services and other benefits. An employee claim may be filed by any worker who believes an injury should be covered under the law.

State Insurance Department
The State Insurance Department serves individuals who need help in filing an appeal or complaint regarding an insurance payer. The agency is responsible for: 1) ensuring that all policies and contracts issued by private insurers are within state insurance law guidelines; 2) educate consumers about insurance; and 3) investigate complaints against insurance brokers, agents, and companies.

Section 3: Scope of Health Care Services in Oklahoma
(Emergency, Acute Care, Rehabilitation, Indian and Tribal Health)
Emergency Medical Services and Trauma System

Emergency medical services (EMS) or prehospital care, are provided in urgent situations at the time and place of event and continue through admittance to the emergency room or hospital, when hospital staff initiate specialized care. Emergency medical and trauma services are organized as a statewide system and network to reach, treat, and transfer patients to the most appropriate facility as soon as possible. Regional field personnel for the EMS Division coordinate services in the eight geographical regions. The four levels of EMS care, corresponding to the training and experience of staff are: basic life support, intermediate life support, paramedic life support, and specialty care.

- Basic Life Support indicates the “minimum standard” as set forth by State law. Provision of EMS care is provided on a 24-hour, 365 days per year basis;
- Intermediate Life Support indicates that personnel and equipment are at the Intermediate level of care;
- Paramedic Life Support indicates that the personnel and equipment are at the Paramedic level of care;
- Specialty Care indicates that the personnel and equipment meet specific and special needs required for inter-facility transport of critical care. Specialty Care need not operate on a 24-hour basis.

Type of Radio Communication:

The three methods of dispatching are:

1) provider – ambulances are dispatched directly by the ambulance service at their base station;
2) central – ambulances are dispatched by a radio utilized for dispatching more than just ambulance vehicles; and
3) regional – ambulances from several different providers are dispatched through a multiple city/county base station.

In the majority of communities EMS may be reached by dialing 911. Areas not covered by 911 have a specific number(s) to call in emergencies. There are four levels of trauma system care in Oklahoma, one hospital is classified as Level I (highest), 2 as level II, 29 as Level III and the remainder are classified as Level IV. The higher the level, the more stringent criteria are in place such as 24-hour presence of surgeons, neurosurgeons, and the availability of advanced equipment and diagnostic ability. The following map shows the type of EMS coverage provided across the state.
Acute Care Hospitals
(Contact information subject to change)

Acute care hospitals are the principal source of a wide array of services in the community including emergency and hospital care, varying levels of rehabilitation, and outpatient services. Hospital providers are responsible for giving referral to services provided in the hospital after discharge or referral to services in other locations. Acute care hospitals are usually accredited by The Joint Commission. Head injury patients who experience problems or lasting effects should return for care to the hospital where they received treatment, because history of the injury and care received are in the medical records, and physicians can better review the case. Local hospitals also provide basic health care through clinics and programs.

Long term acute care (LTAC) hospitals may be housed within an acute care hospital or free standing. They provide specialized care for medical patients who are critically ill or have multi-system complications that require aggressive and continuous acute care services. Long term acute care hospitals have an average length of stay (LOS) of 25 days. They provide 6.5 to 8.5 nursing hours per day based on acuity (amount of nursing time needed to assist/teach patients in activities of daily living such as eating, grooming, and toileting.) The acuity of therapy is based on diagnosed need and patient tolerance. There are no maximums or minimums by guidelines and not all patients receive therapy. Patients are usually discharged to home with family or Home Health, a nursing home, a skilled nursing facility (SNF), assisted living, or rehabilitation.

Resources & Services Directory for Head Injury, Injury prevention Service, OSDH
Oklahoma Acute Rehabilitation Centers

Rehabilitation centers may occupy either a separate unit or department within an acute care hospital or a free-standing facility associated with a hospital devoted exclusively to rehabilitation. Inpatient rehabilitation centers are usually accredited by The Joint Commission and seek accreditation of Certification of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF). The number and types of services may vary according to patients’ needs. A comprehensive treatment program has the goal to reduce/overcome deficits following illness or injury and to assist individuals to attain their optimal level of mental and physical ability, and useful, productive activity. The process involves a planned, orderly sequence of multiple, coordinated services related to the total needs of the individual. Services may be delivered within acute care services, a separate hospital unit, separate facility, or on an outpatient basis as the patient’s condition improves. The scope of rehabilitation services for individuals with TBI is diverse, requiring careful diagnosis and assessment of physical, cognitive and behavioral impairments. The team of TBI rehabilitation specialists may include a physician, physiatrist, nurse, neuropsychologist, psychologist, recreational therapist, physical therapist, occupational therapist, speech/language pathologist, special educator, exercise physiologist, counselor, social worker, and case manager. When the patient is ready to benefit from rehabilitation, the patient/family and physician attempt to select a center that treats a large number of TBI patients and has the professional staff available. Many for-profit organizations/centers in Oklahoma provide outpatient rehabilitation services. Those centers are not included here.

Oklahoma City Service Area Indian Health Center Locations

Tribe Health Center Locations

Oklahoma City Service Area includes Holton, Lawrence, and Wichita Kansas, and Dallas Texas

Indian and Tribal service units and health centers in Oklahoma provide basic prevention and health services to the majority of Native Americans in the state, and to all individuals who seek care in the facilities. People who suffer more severe injuries or medical problems are often transferred to a larger facility for special care. The Indian centers maintain complete records of patients’ emergency room, clinic visits, and hospital admissions for easy reference and follow up. People who sustain brain injury and are treated in a larger facility are usually followed by the admitting facility and their Indian Center.

County Health Departments, Oklahoma

County health departments (CHDs) provide a wide array of basic health and public health services and social services such as immunizations, education to prevent disease and injury, women/infant/child (WIC) nutrition program, injury prevention programs, therapies and counseling, Child Guidance and other children’s services, treatment of minor conditions, and referral to needed services. Many persons with head injury need a variety of services in the community as well as care specific for the injury’s long-term effects. Services provided by each CHD are available to all residents in the county according to program guidelines. Services may include early intervention, speech/language/physical/occupational therapy, behavior modification, housing assistance, assistive devices, HIV referral, TB testing, family planning, home health safety, and disease prevention.

Resources and Services Directory for Head Injury and Other Conditions

Section 4: Selected Health Care Professionals
Neurosurgeons in Oklahoma

Neurosurgeons are one specialty of a team of physicians involved in the accurate diagnosis and treatment of head injuries as soon as possible after the injury event. They perform surgery as indicated, follow the patient through the hospital stay, and recommend follow up care. Persons who have injury-related problems after discharge or experience problems weeks or months after discharge should contact the neurosurgeon to determine the possibility of complications or referral to another physician/professional for appropriate treatment.

Neuropsychologists, Oklahoma

Neuropsychology is a relatively new field where clinicians investigate the relationship between human behavior and how the brain works. They use several tests to measure the person’s skills by evaluating strengths and weaknesses following brain injury, which helps in planning appropriate rehabilitation and vocational (work or school) activity.

Optometrists Who Provide Visual Therapy, Oklahoma

Vision therapy is provided by optometrists who practice preventive and rehabilitative optometry by first seeking the cause of visual dysfunction and treating those causes, not just the symptoms that include headaches, blurred or double vision, poor comprehension, or “not working to potential.” Although the majority of people may benefit from this care, it is especially effective for the following groups:

- Individuals who have suffered a brain injury or other cerebral trauma,
- Students diagnosed as “learning disabled,”
- Computer users,
- Athletes,
- Persons labeled as “juvenile delinquents,”
- Persons who use their near vision a great deal at work or in recreation.

Vision is the dominant sense in the process of deriving meaning from what is seen. It is a learned and developed set of functions that involves many skills. It is estimated that 80%-85% of our perception, learning, cognition and activities are made possible through vision. More than 50% of people with neurologic impairments such as traumatic brain injury, stroke, multiple sclerosis, etc., have visual and visual-cognitive disorders. The three main visual problems resulting from brain injury and stroke are visual field loss, intractable double vision, and visual/balance disorders. In many cases, a poorly developed visual system, or one that has been damaged, leads to processing difficulties for these individuals. A complete visual evaluation can determine if the problem is visually related and if the person can benefit from specific vision therapies.

The Oklahoma Department of Career and Technology Education (ODCTE) provides leadership and resources, and assures standards of excellence for a comprehensive statewide system of career and technology education that includes 29 technology center districts operating on 54 campuses, 398 comprehensive school districts, 25 skill centers, and three juvenile facilities. Governed by the State Board of Career and Technology Education, the ODCTE works closely with the Department of Education and the State Regents of Higher Education to provide continuity of education for Oklahomans. Career and technology centers are an important part of the education system in the state. The ODCTE is accredited by the Oklahoma State Department of Education, the Department of Career and Technical Education, and regional associations. The ODCTE system includes Business and Industry Resources, Educator Resources, and the Technology Centers. A wide array of courses and programs are offered within Full Time Programs, Adult Training and Development Programs, and Business and Industry Services. Examples include: 1) Training for industry (TIP) program, which delivers customized training to qualifying new Oklahoma companies - students are commonly linked with companies during instruction and prepare for jobs; 2) offering of seven types of educational opportunities for junior high school students to senior citizens; 3) Skills Centers that operate occupational training programs and life skills for incarcerated adults and for juveniles in detention centers; and 4) Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), a program that provides up to one year of vocational training for welfare recipients. The costs of education and training are lower than other types of education and vary by length and type of program.

Disability Services. The Centers provide reasonable accommodations and support for students with disabilities and special education needs covered by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). Students with disabilities may request accommodation within full time programs or short-term classes by contacting the Director of Student Services. Vocational rehabilitation counselors and other staff are available to help students with accommodations, and job search and employment.

Mission and Function. To facilitate systems change to enhance the provision of, access to, and funding for assistive technology so that individuals with disabilities can achieve their greatest potential. An assistive technology device is defined as an item, product or piece of equipment used to maintain or improve the functional capabilities of individuals with disabilities which may be as simple as a modified draw handle or as complex as a breath-controlled switch to operate a personal computer.

People pay for equipment using personal funds, private insurance, public programs, or donations from civic organizations. Options for funding include low-interest bank loans, Department of Human Services, Department of Rehabilitation Services, SSI, Indian Health Services, Veterans Administration, private health insurance, Worker’s Compensation Insurance, local service clubs, non-profit organizations, and foundations.

- Schools are required by law to provide assistive technology for children with disabilities if it is needed for education and is in the Individual Education Plan (IEP).
- Medicare or Medicaid can purchase medically necessary devices essential to maintaining health. People with disabilities may include assistive technology to gain employment.
- ABLE Tech INFO-line (888-885-5588) provides free information and referral services on assistive technology for people with disabilities of all ages, family members and service providers (teachers, counselors, therapists, physicians, etc.).
Oklahoma Areawide Services Information System (OASIS).

Operated and administered by the Department of Pediatrics, University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center, College of Medicine.

The Oklahoma Disability Law Center (ODLC) is Oklahoma’s Protection and Advocacy Agency, mandated by the U.S. Administration on Developmental Disabilities.

Mission. To protect, promote, and expand the rights of people with disabilities. The ODLC, initiated in 1977, is a nonprofit Oklahoma corporation that provides free legal services in civil matters throughout the state to people with physical and mental disabilities. The Center helps people with disabilities achieve equality, inclusion in society, and personal independence. It protects and advocates for individuals with developmental disabilities who became disabled before the age of 22 years and have functional limitations in at least three of several areas: self care, mobility, learning, language, self-direction, independent living, or economic self-sufficiency. Also protects and advocates for persons with mental illness discharged from a 24-hour care facility within the past 90 days.

Eligibility. Any individual with a physical or mental disability may be eligible for services under one of five programs operated by OKLC. Call and explain your problem.

Services provided.
- Individual Case Services: Legal services are provided to clients to help them solve their individual problems such as abuse and neglect in institutions, inappropriate special education services, access to community-based services, discrimination based on disability and SSA’s Ticket to Work. When legal representation cannot be provided, referrals are given to other agencies that may be able to help.
- Systems Advocacy. The ODLC works closely with consumer groups and disability rights organizations to advocate for progressive changes in the systems that affect people with disabilities. ODLC partners with the Oklahoma Parents Center concerning educational issues, with Redlands Partners (Oklahoma Developmental Disabilities Council and Center for Learning and Leadership) and with the Oklahoma Olmstead Coalition.
- Community Legal Education. Staff is available to speak with groups of clients, their family members, advocates, and other about the legal rights of people with disabilities.

Services provided include basic health and prevention services, technical assistance, advocacy, and community development. Members work in Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC) that meet specific requirements including having consumer-based governance, located in a medically underserved area, and offering a sliding fee for services. The centers receive funding from federal agencies to serve the uninsured and underinsured. Clients may be referred by a physician or self-refer to the centers for care. Mission: Conduct activities that will enhance and improve the provision of quality health care services to the members’ clients, and improve the health status of their communities. The goal is for all people, regardless of race, gender, ethnicity, disability, language, or ability to pay, to receive culturally sensitive and appropriate health and social services through a coordinated and seamless system of people and organizations working together in a collaborative manner. Parts of the network include:

Central Oklahoma Project Access (COPA). A referral network providing access to medical care for low-income, uninsured people in central Oklahoma. COPA links the uninsured to comprehensive health care services.

Central Oklahoma Perinatal Coalition (COPC). The goal of the COPC is to have comprehensive health care services accessible and available when and where needed and that services are culturally and linguistically appropriate.

Community Health Center, Inc. (CHCI). The CHCI focuses on early detection, diagnosis and treatment of conditions, disease prevention, and health promotion. Medical services are offered on a sliding-fee scale, but patients are not refused because of inability to pay. The center serves as an entry point into the health care delivery system for eight service units.

Oklahoma City County Health Department (OCCHD). The OCCHD provides a range of medical services to the community including child health and guidance, WIC services, and other public health functions.

Variety Health Center (VHC). VHC is a community health clinic that provides maternal and child health care to low-income families. Pediatric, obstetrics, family planning and WIC services are provided to patients based on income. Services are provided in the Oklahoma City area.

Military/Veterans Health Care in the Nation and Oklahoma
(Contact information subject to change.)

Because of the interest in veterans’ lives and injury outcomes by health professionals, patients and families, and the people of Oklahoma, this section includes a brief summary of the organization of U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, the VA health care system, other national agencies/organizations, and Oklahoma VA services.

United States Department of Veterans Affairs
http://www.va.gov

The Veterans Affairs (VA) was established as an independent agency under the President by Executive Order 5398 on July 21, 1930 and was elevated to Cabinet level on March 15, 1989 (Public Law No. 100-527). The mission is to serve America’s veterans and their families with dignity and compassion and to be their principal advocate in ensuring that they receive medical care, benefits, social support, and lasting memorials promoting the health, welfare, and dignity of all veterans in recognition of their service to this nation. In September 2007, the estimated total veteran population was 23,816,000. VA is the second largest Federal department and has over 260,000 employees, among them physicians, nurses, counselors, statisticians, architects, computer specialists, and attorneys. Services and benefits are provided through a nationwide network of 153 hospitals, 895 outpatient clinics, 135 nursing homes, 47 residential rehabilitation and treatment programs, 209 readjustment counseling centers, 57 veteran’s benefits regional offices, and 125 national cemeteries.

The overall goal of the VA is to provide excellence in patient care with prompt and seamless service, veterans’ benefits, and customer satisfaction. Of the nearly 25 million veterans currently alive, about three of every four served during a war or an official period of hostility. Approximately 70 million people – about a quarter of the nation’s population – are potentially eligible for VA benefits and services as veterans, family members, or survivors of veterans. Almost half of the VA budget, $44.5 billion, goes to veterans and their families in the form of checks (disability payments, income support, etc.) and the remaining $45.5 billion is discretionary; 39.6 billion out of 45.5 billion support the medical care system.

Five broad goals of the VA Strategic Plan to improve services and Department management are to:

- Restore the capability of veterans with disabilities to the greatest extent possible and improve the quality of their lives and their families;
- Ensure a smooth transition for veterans from active military service to civilian life;
- Honor and serve veterans in life and memorialize them in death for their sacrifices on behalf of the Nation;
- Contribute to the public health, emergency management, socioeconomic well-being, and history of the Nation; and
- Deliver world-class service to veterans and their families by applying sound business principles that result in effective management of people, communications, technology, and governance.
The Department of Veterans Affairs, which address all aspects of veterans care, are located in Washington, DC, and include:

- Veterans Health Administration (VHA)
  VHA manages one of the largest health care systems in the United States with 157 hospitals nationwide, conducts research and education, and provides emergency medical preparedness. The medical centers (VAMCs) within a Veterans Integrated Service Network (VISN) work together to provide efficient, accessible health care to veterans in their areas.

- Veterans Benefits Administration (VBA)
  VBA provides benefits and services to the veteran population through 58 VA regional offices. Services provided to veterans and their dependents include compensation and pension, education, loan guaranty, and insurance.

- National Cemetery Administration (NCA)
  NCA is responsible for providing burial benefits to veterans and eligible dependents which involves managing 120 National Cemeteries nationwide, providing grave markers worldwide, administering the State Cemetery Grants Program that complements the National Cemeteries network, and providing Presidential Memorial Certificates to next of kin of deceased veterans.

- Office of Inspector General (IG)
  The IG provides services to veterans, VA employees, and citizens concerned with good Government.

- Board of Contract Appeals (BCA)
  BCA considers and determines appeals from decisions of contracting officers pursuant to the Contract Disputes Act of 1979.

- Board of Veterans’ Appeals (BVA)
  The Board of Veterans Appeals reviews benefit claims determinations made by local VA offices and issues decisions on appeals. The Board members, attorneys experienced in veteran’s law and in reviewing benefit claims, are the only ones who can issue Board decisions.

Additional VA organizations include the Center for Women Veterans, which ensures women veterans have access to VA benefits and services that includes gender-specific needs, outreach, and advising the Secretary for Veterans Affairs on all programs and issues affecting women veterans, and 14 Offices that handle all specialty areas.

Veterans Health Administration
Since 1995, VHA has worked to bring staff closer to patient care and moved to an outpatient model where care is provided at more than 1,400 sites in communities throughout the United States. The ratio of outpatient visits to inpatient admissions was 29 to one in 1995 and is now 100 to one.

Twenty-two regional networks were established, each one charged with conducting daily operations and decisions affecting hospitals, clinics, nursing homes and readjustment counseling centers within their regions. In 2007 VHA provided health care for 5.5 million veterans. It is one of the largest providers of health professional training in the world and maintains affiliations with 107 academic health systems, operates one of the largest and effective research organizations, is a principal federal asset for providing medical assistance in major disasters, and serves as the largest direct-care provider for homeless citizens in the United States. The Computerized Patient Record System is an integrated system serving all VA facilities where providers can update a patient’s medical history, review test results, submit orders, and access patient health information. The VHA conducts more than 400,000 consultations annually via telemedicine.

Blind Rehabilitation Service - Provides a continuum of care for blinded veterans extending from their home environment to the local VA facility and appropriate rehabilitation setting. Services include adjustment to blindness counseling, patient and family education, benefits analysis, comprehensive residential inpatient training, outpatient rehabilitation services, provision of assistive technology, and research. The purpose is to provide high quality care in a timely and appropriate manner enabling veterans to acquire the skills and capabilities necessary for development of personal independence and emotional stability. The Visual Impairment Service Team (VIST) Coordinator located at local VA medical centers is the initial contact person for getting help for vision loss.

VA Combat Vet Outreach. The VA has telephoned veterans potentially identified as being ill or injured from Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom (OEF-OIF) and is currently calling over 500,000 veterans who have been discharged from active duty but have not contacted VA for health care. They are being called with an offer to appoint a care manager if they do not have one to help them receive appropriate care and know about their VA benefits. These combat veterans have special access to VA health care for five years after discharge from the military, including screening for post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and traumatic brain injury (TBI). VA personnel have been deployed to the military’s major medical centers to assist wounded service members and their families during the transition to civilian lives.

Current Conflicts
Presently, a major concern of the VA is providing care for service men and women returning from Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom (OEF/OIF), especially those with multiple major injuries. Approximately five percent of patients who receive VA health care are veterans of current conflicts. Although veterans also obtain services in the overall health care system, this section describes the VA System of the nation and state.

Organization of Care for Veterans of Current Conflicts
Briefly, the system of care for severely injured service members usually involves emergent care at stations in Iraq and Afghanistan, transfer to Landstuhl Regional Medical Center in Germany, and then transfer to Walter Reed Army or Bethesda Naval Hospital. Depending on the injuries and member’s status, he/she may be admitted into the VA Polytrauma System of Care. The Veterans Administration Hospital in Minneapolis, one of four facilities in the nation where service members injured in Iraq and Afghanistan receive comprehensive evaluation, treatment, and rehabilitation, serves Oklahoma service members as they return from one of the three major facilities. When two or more injuries occur, one of which is life threatening, patients are shipped to a polytrauma center. Treatment is provided to active duty personnel with combat injuries, active duty with non-combat injuries, and veterans. Forty to fifty percent of all troops currently deployed to combat zones are National Guardsmen and Reservists.

Veterans Affairs Polytrauma System of Care
The philosophy and purpose of the polytrauma system of care is to provide quality, coordinated, and comprehensive medical care and rehabilitation for the severely wounded with complex injuries in OIF/OEF so they can return to their active duty or a suitable post-service role. The polytrauma system is available to all service members and veterans who have sustained severe injuries, and it is the largest network of rehabilitation facilities in the world.
include active duty with combat injuries and those in training, active duty with non-combat injuries (e.g., stateside training accidents), and veterans. Patients with multiple trauma are treated as well as those with monotrauma such as TBI or amputation. Polytrauma is defined as two or more injuries to physical regions or organ systems, one of which may be life threatening, resulting in physical, cognitive, psychological, or psychosocial impairments and functional disability. TBI frequently occurs in polytrauma in combination with other disabling conditions such as amputation, auditory or visual impairments, spinal cord injury, post-traumatic stress disorder, or mental health conditions. Injury to the brain primarily guides the rehabilitation course in polytrauma.

Definitions
The following terms relate to the VA Polytrauma System of care and are not included in the definition of terms in Section 1 of the Resource Directory.

- Benefits Counselor - Works with veterans and their families to identify resources available in the VA system to help with employment, education, health and financial support.
- Brain Injury Rehabilitation Unit (BIRU) - An outpatient program that provides cognitive retraining and community re-entry rehabilitation to patients with TBI.

- Vet Centers - Locations that provide readjustment counseling and outreach services free of charge to all veterans who served in any combat zone. Services are also available to family members for military related issues.

Polytrauma System of Care

Component I. Polytrauma Rehabilitation Centers provide acute, comprehensive medical and rehabilitative services for patients with complex medical and disabling injuries through a team of professionals and consultants from other specialties that includes physiatry, rehabilitation nursing, speech-language therapy, occupational therapy, recreational therapy, blind rehabilitation, audiology, psychology, neuropsychology, social work/case manager, and prosthetist/orthotist. There are four Polytrauma Rehabilitation Centers located in Minneapolis, MN, Palo Alto, CA, Richmond, VA, and Tampa, FL. Each Center also houses a Polytrauma Network Site

Component II. Network Sites total 22 and are located in Augusta, Boston, Bronx, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Hines, Houston, Indianapolis, Lexington, Philadelphia, Seattle, St. Louis, Syracuse, Tucson, Washington DC and West Los Angeles. The team of providers are similar to the Centers but focused on inpatient and outpatient services, management of long-term effects, managing the rehabilitation plan, identifying VA and non-VA resources for care, continued support for families, providing regular follow-up care and check ups, and coordinating service between the local VA, Veterans Benefit Administration, DoD, and the private sector.

Component III. Polytrauma support clinics total 72 and utilize groups of rehabilitation providers who deliver follow up services in consultation with regional and network specialists. They perform routine follow-up of stable effects and treat new problems in consult with regional sites. The regional networks develop applications for new clinics in consideration of reducing veterans’ travel to the nearest VA or clinic.

Component IV. Polytrauma points of contact are located in 60 VA Medical Centers including the two VA hospitals in Oklahoma. Professionals refer patients to an appropriate component in the system of care, coordinate services provided in the community, and consult with other professionals for follow-up.

!Continuity of Care: From Battlefield to VA Polytrauma System of Care
The majority of patients are discharged to home as they leave a Polytrauma Center and receive specialized follow-up at a Polytrauma Network Site, or another facility in the Polytrauma System of Care. Some patients may require ongoing sub acute or long term care. Others may return to a Military Treatment Facility for follow-up after VA discharge and some patients may return to Active Duty within the military. Polytrauma Rehabilitation Teams develop follow-up plans for each patient with patients and families that are communicated to the receiving medical facilities and military case managers. Facilities in the system of care participate in regular conference calls that address clinical and administrative issues. The Sites consult with the Centers by tele-conferencing, phone, and email, and VA’s system of electronic health records allows physicians to consult with each other on any case.

Background and Predominant Sources of Injury
Recent advances in emergency medicine and protective armor technology have increased survivability of military on the battlefield and during troop transport. Body armor reduces the frequency and severity of injuries to vital organs within the torso region, leaving face and limbs exposed. Helmets reduce penetrating injury from projectiles but give limited protection against nonpenetrating forces from impacts, falls, and explosive blasts which cause coup-contracoup, torsion, and pressure wave trauma to the brain. The head remains susceptible to concussive forces from vehicle accidents, blast injuries, and falls.

Blast injuries are the principal mechanism of injury and are caused by improvised explosive devices, grenades/rocket propelled grenades, landmines, missiles, mortar/artillery shells, gunshots, and motor vehicle accidents. The most common injuries sustained are traumatic brain injury (TBI), fractures, burns, chest/lung trauma, spinal cord injury, hearing loss or injury, traumatic amputations, visual impairments or blindness, and soft tissue injuries. Primary blast injury occurs from an interaction of the over pressurization wave and the body with differences occurring from one organ system to another. Air-filled organs such as the ear, lung, and gastrointestinal tract and organs surrounded by fluid-filled cavities such as the brain and spinal cord are especially susceptible to injury. In a blast, brain injuries can also occur by impact from blast-energized debris, the individual being physically thrown, burns, and/or inhalation of gases and vapors. Treatment requires long-term follow up and/or life time case management which is provided across all episodes and sites of care and includes coordination of services, evaluation of ongoing rehabilitation and psychosocial needs, family education and support services, and assistance with community integration.

Military/VA Health Care in Oklahoma

The health of all military and veterans of past and current wars is of great interest and a priority in Oklahoman communities and the legislature. There are five military bases in the state. Veterans constitute 12% of the Oklahoma population 18 years and older. Oklahomans are well represented within active duty, reserves, and particularly the National Guard segments of the military. Veterans health care follows the system as described generally under the federal VA Health System. The veteran population served in Oklahoma during 2007 was 338,086; medical care costs were $434,379,000.

Veterans Administration Medical Centers
Oklahoma has two VA Medical Centers; both are affiliated with the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine and have newly established neuro-rehabilitation units. The Centers collaborate and contract with the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation and satellite centers statewide to transition veterans to employment and to provide needed services.

The Oklahoma City Veterans Affairs Medical Center (OC-VAMC) is a 169-bed (245 authorized) facility that serves as a primary, secondary, and tertiary care center for eligible veterans in the OKC metropolitan area and western two-thirds of the state, and two counties in north central Texas with a veteran population of 224,696. The OC-VAMC also provides care at six outpatient clinics in western Oklahoma. It is a teaching hospital and is part of VA network 16, which includes facilities in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas. The Center’s Special Programs include Abdominal Aortic Aneurysm Repair, Tri-Fab, which builds state-of-the-art prosthetic devices for amputees, and a Nuclear Medicine Triple Head Coincidence system which allows for PET-like imaging studies on patients.

The Jack C. Montgomery VA Medical Center (JCM-VAMC) is a general medical/surgical facility that provides primary and secondary care and three outpatient clinics that provide primary care and consultation care in medicine, surgery, and mental health. As part of the South Central VA Health Care Network, the hospitals and clinics have ready access to nine sister facilities for referral and use the VAMCs in Oklahoma City and Little Rock for most tertiary services. JCM-VAMC provides services for more than 45,000 enrolled veterans in three locations. The center operates 88 hospital beds (187 authorized beds) and an outpatient clinic opened in 1998. The Center also has a new 15-bed Inpatient Behavioral Health Unit and a 20-bed Rehabilitation Unit. Special Programs include audiology, behavioral medicine, PTSD, Homeless Veterans, Hospice, spinal cord injury, Visual Impairment Service Team (VIST), and the Women Veterans Clinic. The Center was named the 2007 Champion of Oklahoma, the highest honor of the Champions of Health for their commitment to help veterans, including those who have served in Operations Iraq and Enduring Freedom, achieve their highest level of functional independence through the new rehabilitation unit and prosthetic services program.

Oklahoma VA Regional Office is located in Muskogee with a satellite office in Oklahoma City, and has out-based representatives in Tulsa, Lawton, and Ada. There are Education Liaison Representatives in fourteen western regional states. The Office provides administrative support and services to three jurisdictions.

The clinic provides primary care, mental health, social work, and lab onsite to enrolled veterans who live in Atoka, Coal, Hughes, Latimer, Pittsburg, and Pushmataha counties.

Care System. Service members seriously injured in current conflicts may be cared for at various stations in Iraq, transferred to the Landstuhl Regional Medical Center in Germany, then transferred stateside to Walter Reed, Bethesda, Minneapolis, or any of the four polytrauma centers. The majority of TBI cases have polytrauma. Brain injury primarily guides the course of care and rehabilitation in these centers. Treatment is provided to active duty personnel with combat injuries, active duty with non-combat injuries, and veterans.

The VA service system is, and will continue to be, changing in response to organization and treatment advances, legislative mandates, policy-making, available funding, and new protocols based on evaluation of the system. Following deployment, all veterans from OIF/OEF are seen either at the VA Medical Centers or Community Based Outpatient Clinics for initial screening which includes screens for risk for TBI and mental health problems in addition to a comprehensive preventive health evaluation by a primary care provider. If a veteran has a positive TBI screen, he/she is referred to the TBI Clinic for a comprehensive level two evaluation. Twenty-two percent of veterans screened have indication of a TBI; 60-70% of those with a second evaluation are diagnosed with TBI. This evaluation is standardized across the nation to assess types of injury and exposures, and types of problems veterans relate to their injury or exposure. After a comprehensive neurologic and cognitive evaluation, veterans know if they meet the criteria for TBI, and are referred to a specialized program, such as a headache management program or cognitive retraining/learning program to address their primary needs. Readjustment programs are also available to veterans, which involve the use of mental health and vocational services to complement general health care. TBI care includes primary, mental health, and neurologic rehabilitation services. The plan is to set up a centralized post-deployment clinic based at the Oklahoma City VA Medical Center to expedite care and timely screening, and refer to community-based outpatient clinics when fewer services are needed. The Oklahoma City VA Medical Center is opening a new community based clinic in Ardmore and in Enid. The Oklahoma City VA Medical Center has been proactive in establishing a group of professionals in neurology, rehabilitation, mental health and primary care to address the variety of needs of their population. There continue to be challenges in recruitment of professionals and increasing timeliness of services to meet needs as they are defined.

Organization of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services

Mental health and substance abuse services for veterans are provided collaboratively by health professionals in the general health care and mental health and substance abuse systems of care. The Oklahoma Department of Veterans Affairs (ODVA) is the sixth largest state agency in Oklahoma. The central administrative office is in the Oklahoma City Capitol Complex and the Claims and Benefits Division has offices in Muskogee, Lawton, Tulsa, and Oklahoma City.

Since statehood, Oklahoma has spent millions of dollars on the education, health care and counseling of veterans and their dependents. The War Veterans Commission is responsible to the Governor for carrying out the laws passed by the Oklahoma Legislature, and to administer the veterans program in Oklahoma through a director who exercises operational oversight of the two principal operations of the department: The Oklahoma Veterans Centers and the Claims and Benefits Division. The veterans program is supported by Oklahoma citizens, Governors, and legislators and has been developed as a complete service that includes nursing and domiciliary care, financial assistance in emergencies, education accrediting, and field service counseling in filing of claims for VA and State of Oklahoma benefits. The VA’s network of independent and community based clinics allow veterans to maintain regular contact with doctors in specialties from cardiac care to mental health at VA regional hospitals linked for video consultations coupled with telemetry of health data or images. These clinics focus on primary treatment, prevention, early detection, and health promotion.

Oklahoma Veterans Centers
Oklahoma is nationally recognized for the seven domiciliary and nursing care centers serving wartime veterans located in Ardmore, Claremore, Clinton, Norman, Sulphur, Talihina and Lawton. The centers operate much like private communities, situated on spacious, landscaped acreages. Each has its own history and character. All have to meet an annual inspection by the U.S. Veterans Administration and follow the guidelines established by other health and safety agencies. This comprehensive program was created to administer care not otherwise available to over 1,400 Oklahoma war veterans. To be eligible for admission to a Center, the Oklahoma veteran must have served in the active Armed Forces of the United State during wartime and discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. Specific wartime theatres and dates are required:
(1) Rules follow 72 O.S., Sec 224
(2) Veterans must have served at least 90 days, except where discharged due to or as a result of a service connected disability, with one or more days being during a wartime period as prescribed in (1).
(3) A veteran must be disabled by age, disease or other reason determined through physical examination by an Oklahoma Veterans Center physician to be eligible for admission. For domiciliary, must be ambulant, dress himself, and perform necessary bathroom needs. For nursing care, the veteran must be disabled or diseased to a degree that requires intermediate or skilled nursing care.

Section 8: Work and Employment, Vocational Rehabilitation
Work and Employment, Vocational Rehabilitation

Numerous state agencies and organizations in Oklahoma provide employment related services to persons with traumatic brain injury and other disabilities, and the general population. Although all of these services do not form a coordinated system, — e.g., an organized array of interrelated, interacting, or interdependent parts forming and working as a complex whole, — there exists distinct systems such as One-Stop Centers, selected patterns of referral, communication, and networks and channels, as well as direct collaboration between multiple employment-related entities. There are also more than two hundred private and non-profit employment companies who help people to find jobs, including persons with disabilities. Although the agencies provide special services for persons with disabilities, the unique needs and assistance required by persons with brain injury and other conditions are usually provided by Vocational Rehabilitation Services, which is described following this section.

The following agencies provide state employment services for Oklahomans.

The OPM administers the Merit System of Personnel Administration and acts in both a service and regulatory capacity. OPM is headed by an Administrator appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Oklahoma state Senate. The Mission is to serve the people of Oklahoma by delivering reliable and innovative human resources services to partner agencies to achieve their missions. OPM helps people to obtain jobs within the Merit System and Non-Merit System Agencies. The Merit System also includes a variety of outreach recruitment programs to help agencies meet the challenges of cultural diversity and the modern workforce. Merit System rules are not required for individuals with severe disabilities hired through the Persons with Severe Disabilities Employment Program. These individuals are linked to Vocational Rehabilitation Services to pursue job opportunities. The agency website provides links to various references, services, and programs (http://www.ok.gov/opm/). The Merit System also includes a variety of outreach recruitment programs to help agencies meet the challenges of cultural diversity and the modern workforce. Merit System rules are not required for individuals with severe disabilities hired through the Persons with Severe Disabilities Employment Program. Purpose: The Office of Disability Concerns (ODC) provides accurate and timely information, referral and advocacy, acts as an intermediary to persons with disabilities, and provides services for those with disabilities. The ODC helps state government to develop policies and services that meet the needs of Oklahomans with disabilities and has the following powers and duties:

1. To identify the needs of persons with disabilities on a continuing basis and to attempt to meet those needs.
2. To serve as a referral and information source for persons with disabilities seeking services, and for agencies seeking assistance in their provision of services.
3. To generate community awareness and support of programs for persons with disabilities.
4. To advise and assist the Governor and Legislature in developing policies to meet the needs of citizens with disabilities.
5. To assist agencies in complying with federal laws.
6. To enhance employment opportunities for handicapped persons.

Some of the areas the ODC helps those looking for information and referral on disability issues include:

Accessibility
Adaptive Aids
Awareness
Civil Rights
Disability Laws and Regulations

Financial Assistance
Housing
Independent Living
Transportation
Recration

Social Services
Specific Disabilities
Support Groups
Training

These areas are presented in other sections, listed under Office of Disability Concerns.

The ODC website http://www.odc.ok.gov includes agency information, public information, the ADA Act, training provided by ODC, employment, employment and training resources, answers to frequently asked questions, the Client Assistance Program, and announcement of state advances on employment of people with disabilities. For those who have access to a computer, a new method of connecting applicants and employers allows clients to place their information in a database that is matched to employers’ needs for a specific job (www.jobfit.com).

The website has an extensive and comprehensive listing of housing-related information, Housing for People with Disabilities in Oklahoma: A Resource Guide, prepared by ODC staff in response to many consumer inquiries over a long period of time, dealing with the subject of housing for people with disabilities in the state of Oklahoma. The six chapters include a range of 43 topic areas such as getting started, organizations providing assistance with housing issues, housing for people with disabilities in Oklahoma, financial aid and housing assistance programs, architectural modifications and housing repair, frequently asked questions, Section 504 complaint process, loans and assistance, homeless housing needs, and tribal housing programs.
Function. The Client Assistance Program (CAP) is an advocacy program established by Section 112 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Each State and Territory of the United States has a CAP to help individuals with disabilities get the services they need to prepare for, keep or obtain employment from programs funded under the Act. CAP provides clients, client-applicants and former clients of Rehabilitative and Visual Services federally funded centers and programs with assistance in obtaining services under the Rehabilitation Act. In Oklahoma CAP is administered through the Office of Disability Concerns.

Services provided by CAP:
- Information about the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and amendments.
- Information about benefits available to clients and applicants through the Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) program.
- Mediation between counselors, facilities and clients to resolve problems.
- Assist clients and applicants in pursuing all available remedies to ensure the protection of their rights.
- Educate the public about the CAP program and Vocational Rehabilitation (VR).
- Provide outreach to traditionally unserved and underserved individuals with disabilities.
- Outreach to individuals with disabilities from diverse and cultural backgrounds.

CAP is an advocacy program for applicants and clients of VR, Centers for Independent Living (CIL) and other programs authorized under the Act. An individual with a disability who is not applying for or receiving services from a program funded under the Act is eligible only for information and referral services. Although CAP is not part of the Vocational Rehabilitation Services (VRS), staff can help a DRS client or applicant better understand the VR system. VR counselors typically have the training and expertise to help people with disabilities to work or return to work. The two organizations in DRS that serve people with disabilities seeking employment are the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) and the Division of Visual Services (DVS). To initiate applying for assistance, a form must be completed and submitted. To contact CAP call 405/521-3756.
History and Function: A state agency created by the Legislature in 1941 and funded by The U.S. Department of Labor, the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission (OESC) governs the operation of local employment offices throughout the state. These offices provide testing, counseling and placement services for job seekers; solicit job orders from employers; refer applicants to jobs; provide Computerized Job Banks for job information; and provide special services for veterans and disabled veterans, including job development, counseling and placement. OESC also collects Unemployment Insurance taxes from Oklahoma employers to finance payment of unemployment benefits to jobless workers. Some basic questions provided on the website http://www.oesc.ok.gov are:

- Are you unemployed, underemployed or looking for a job? Need to find a job, file for Unemployment, insurance benefits, learn about training opportunities, disability programs, community resources, careers or the job market?
- Are you a business or an employer? Need to find forms, qualified employees, file Unemployment insurance taxes, file New Hire reporting or learn about the job market?
- Are you a researcher or policy maker? Need information on regulations governing the Oklahoma Workforce Development System, reports and/or publications?
- Are you a workforce development employee? Need information about the Oklahoma Workforce Development System, request data or access to staff services?

Workforce Oklahoma/One-Stop Centers/Local Offices Directory

Workforce Oklahoma, or One-Stop Centers, is the generic term for a new workforce development system where business leaders, educators, and employment professionals are working together to achieve job growth, employee productivity, and employer satisfaction. Within this system is a network of statewide offices where employment, education, and training providers are integrating services to assist customers in finding jobs and qualified workers, making career decisions, and accessing training opportunities. The One-Stops are required to provide physical and programmatic access to all persons including persons with disabilities. People with disabilities are not segregated in One-Stop services but additional resources and referrals are provided for people with disabilities who need them. Cooperating Oklahoma agencies include the Department of Commerce, Department of Human Services, Employment Security Commission, and the Department of Rehabilitation Services. Each office serves two or more counties.

Individuals with disabilities who are interested in self employment have access to OK-SEED, The access point for this program is the case manager located at the One-Stop Center.

WORKFORCE OKLAHOMA:
1-888-980-WORK
Other Work-Related Programs and Services

Ticket to Work Program. The program has evolved with modifications over time into a useful alternative for persons with disabilities seeking work. Although the process had been lengthy in the past, getting a job is aided with the VR system becoming involved at the outset. Recent federal legislation combines employment and employment benefits. The unemployed are now getting employment and then moving on to obtain benefits or retraining. Staff with agencies involved in Ticket to Work must know where jobs are available in the state to help persons in the work environment. VR’s role in the system involves working with employers – sometimes as case managers, developing possible solutions, forming linkages with agencies, training through workshops, transitioning from school to work, and identifying support for pre/post issues.

Ticket-To-Work regulations have been modified in recent years to help people with disabilities keep their health care coverage. A person on Supplemental Security Income (SSI) can earn up to $22,399 per year and still keep their Medicaid; they do have to request a 1619(b) waiver. If a person is on Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) they can keep their Medicare for 9 ½ years after returning to work. Other work incentives are also available.

Sheltered Workshops. Available in several counties, the purpose of sheltered workshops is to empower adults with developmental disabilities to make a significant contribution to their communities through a variety of employment, community living, and recreational services. The supported employment program provides individual and crew placements with employers seeking quality work at a fair price. The center-based services program provides sheltered employment through contracts with local businesses.

Eligibility. For employment services, individuals must be 16 years of age or older and have the ability to handle basic self-care skills. Funding sources vary based on an individual’s disability and need for services.

The agency provides employment assistance to Oklahomans with disabilities through two Divisions: Vocational Rehabilitation, and Visual Services.
Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) helps people who have physical or mental impairments get jobs in appropriate careers of their choice.

Visual Services (VS) assists people who are blind or have visual impairments in getting jobs in appropriate careers of their choice.

The primary services for VR and VS are counseling and guidance with job placement. Other services compensate for, correct, or prevent disability-based barriers to employment. Some of the services provided by VR and VS include:

- Evaluations and tests;
- Medical services;
- Counseling and guidance;
- Work training (including college, technical schools, on-the-job training, etc.);
- Assistive technology services and devices;
- Interpreter services (for people with a hearing impairment);
- Orientation and mobility training (for persons with a visual disability);
- Supported employment (job coaches and other supports on a job);
- Transportation (To get to services);
- Personal assistance services (on-or off-the-job); and
- Other services to reach a work goal.

Persons may apply for services in offices throughout Oklahoma. The offices are listed below. They can also be located by checking the “blue pages” in your local phone book or by calling the toll free number 1-800/487-4042. Enter your zip code, and you will be connected to the Vocational Rehabilitation office that serves your area.

Eligibility Requirements

A person is eligible for VR or VS if they:

- Have a physical or mental impairment that keeps them from working,
- Can benefit in terms of an employment outcome from VR services, and
- Require VR services to prepare for, find, keep, or return to employment.

Many people with brain injury are eligible for VR and VS services if they want to work. When people apply for services, the counselor will determine their eligibility for services by assessing problems they have in thinking, sensory, behavior, or physical abilities since the injury. If a person is eligible, the counselor will provide information about choices they have for developing an Individualized Plan for Employment. A range of different services is available and the counselor will review them with the individual. They include: vocational evaluation, counseling and guidance; medical and psychological assessments; physical and mental restoration; training (vocational, academic, job search, job coaching, etc); rehabilitation equipment, assistive technology, and rehabilitation engineering services; job placement, and specialized programs which assist with sensory deficits and severe disabilities, and those who need supported employment. The plan guides the individual to prepare for, find, or return to employment in a career of his/her choice.
There have been many changes in the Social Security law that help people keep their medical benefits for several years. Sometimes people can retain their cash benefits as well, at least for several months while they try working again. A new program called “EZ Back On” makes it easier to again receive benefits if a person loses a job because of a medical condition. The Oklahoma Benefits Planning and Assistance Project should be contacted for more information (1-888/801-3203).

Young people who are being served under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act should have a transition plan under development beginning at age 14 years. This plan is designed to prepare for life once school is completed. The VR or VS counselor can be involved in assisting the person and family to begin career planning when the school’s transition plan is initiated.

Special Education and Department of Rehabilitation Services (DRS) Vocational Rehabilitation – Transition for Students

The transition of a student receiving special education services is an important process that will help the child progress through life; communication and discussion among students, parents and teachers are essential. Successful transition involves specific activities of Special Education (SE) and DRS-VR staff. When a student is referred by a special education teacher to DRS at age sixteen or younger the DRS information packet should be provided to the student and/or parent. The instruction sheet for the referral form and packet explains the process and use of materials. A brief description of the process is given below. For complete information, contact Special Education Services at 405/522-1461 or 405/521-3351.

Description of Process.

1. The SE teacher:
   a. Completes the DRS referral form;
   b. Requests the parent or student (if 18 years of age) to sign a consent form for release of information to DRS;
   c. Provides information packet to parent and student including a DRS brochure and information sheet and contact information for DRS offices statewide.
   d. Sends referral form to Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) or Visual Services (VS) of local school district.

2. Parents and Student:
   a. Need to contact the DRS VR/VS Counselor to set an appointment to complete application.

3. The DRS VR/VS Counselor:
   a. Determines eligibility of student for DRS services after application and referral received.
   b. Will contact student once eligibility as been determined.
   c. If eligible, student and parent will meet with VR counselor to develop an Individual Plan of Employment (IPE)
   d. When IPE is completed, the referral form is completed and a copy of the IPE and referral form sent to the special education teacher.
   e. Participates in transition planning by attending the IEP meeting, prior conversations, other communications/information exchange.
f. Provides expertise in the following areas:
   i. Vocational and prevocational job training
   ii. Agency linkages for transition services
   iii. DRS services
   iv. Vocational goals
   v. Needed transition service
   vi. Integrated employment
   vii. Postsecondary education

Participation of the VR/VS Counselor in IEP meetings for transition planning is facilitated by the SE teacher and the district.

The four main groups of employment support services provided through contracts by VR with other agencies and organizations include: job placement, employment and retention, support services for employment, and supported employment. The employment and retention and placement services contract with businesses which have employment services for people with disabilities. They assist clients in finding a job suitable for their education, experience, abilities and interests. They provide some additional services that a person who doesn’t have a disability might not need. These additional services vary with the client’s needs. The types of jobs they assist mutual clients in finding will also vary, are decided on by the client and DRS specialist, and are identified in the client’s IEP. These are regular jobs that anyone else might apply for. The new employee is paid by the employer at the same rate as anyone else newly hired for that position would be paid. VR pays the employment service based on the contract. These organizations are shown in the work and employment section.

Children First Program. A community-based program that offers public health nurse visitation to families who are expecting their first child. The program is voluntary and does not replace the health care provider of family physician. The program features:
• Trained public health nurses make home visits to give personal care and answer questions about you and your baby during pregnancy and the first two years of the child’s life;
• A focus on personal health, environmental health, adult living skills, and parent skills;
• Home visits are weekly then biweekly until delivery, weekly then biweekly until the 21st month of childhood, and monthly until the child reaches two years.

Enrolled families receive the following services at no cost:
• child growth evaluations
• parenting education
• nutrition education
• health and safety information
• access to other services for health, mental health, and job training

Those who can enroll include pregnant women less than 28 weeks pregnant, families expecting their first child, and families with little financial or social support.

Screening, Special Services and SoonerStart
Tel: 405/271-6617 or 1-800/766-2223 (statewide)
E-mail john@health.ok.gov

This office within the OSDH is responsible for the testing/screening of children for disorders or potential disabilities, and to refer clients for services. Screening services provided relate to newborn screening, hearing screening, SoonerStart services, prevention of neural tube defects, and screening and prevention of lead poisoning in children. Sometimes a repeat test is needed.

Newborn Screening
Every baby born in Oklahoma is required by the Oklahoma State Board of Health to have a blood test in the first week of life to find out if he/she has any of the following disorders:
• Phenylketonuria (PKU)
• Congenital hypothyroidism
- Classic Galactosemia
- Sickle Cell Disease
- Cystic Fibrosis
- Congenital Adrenal Hyperplasia
- Medium-chain acyl coenzyme A dehydrogenase deficiency (MCAD)

Newborn Hearing Screening
Most Oklahoma hospitals screen newborn babies’ hearing before they go home. A child learns to communicate during the first years of life. They learn to understand what people say and start to talk to themselves. Since good hearing is needed for this to happen, hearing problems should be identified as soon as possible. If a hearing loss is found, steps can be taken to help the baby develop communication abilities.

Additional (referral) resources for infant hearing testing include:
- the baby’s doctor
- county health departments
- local SoonerStart early intervention program (refer to SoonerStart)
- county Department of Human Services office, Children with Special Health Care Needs program
- Oklahoma Areawide Service Information System (OASIS) – an information and referral service for children and adults with special needs refer to OASIS).

SoonerStart
Oklahoma’s Early Intervention program for families of infants and toddlers (birth to 36 months) who have developmental delays. Sometimes children have special needs or health issues that put them at risk for a developmental delay; they may need an extra “boost.” A more complete description of SoonerStart is found later in this Section.

SoonerStart:
- is regulated by law and funded through federal and state sources
- services are offered at no cost
- services are provided by qualified health professionals
- can help parents learn about and enhance the child’s environment
- can help find information and community resources
- connect people with parent-to-parent support networks.

Neural Tube Defects
The neural (relating to any structure composed of nerve cells or their processes, or will evolve into nerve cells on further development) tube forms the baby’s brain and spinal cord at 26-28 days after conception. If the neural tube does not develop normally, two defects that may occur are spina bifida (spine does not form properly and part of the spinal cord may be outside the spine leading to muscle weakness, paralysis and other problems) and anencephaly (top part of the skull and brain fail to form properly). One cause of neural tube defects is lack of the B vitamin folic acid. The OSDH recommends women obtain the correct amount of folic acid from three sources each day: a multivitamin that contains 400 micrograms (0.4 milligrams) of folic acid, foods high in folate, and foods fortified with folic acid.
Screening and Prevention of Lead Poisoning
Lead poisoning happens when there is too much lead in the body. Lead is especially bad for children younger than six years old. A child may not feel sick but even small amounts can harm a child’s brain, kidneys, and stomach and cause learning and behavior problems. All children 6 months to six years of age should be checked by a doctor, clinic, or local health department at least once a year for risk of lead poisoning. Prevention steps include:
- Get a blood test.
- Be alert to sources of lead, such as old cars and batteries, lead painted items inside and outside the home, craft and hobby supplies.
- Provide well-balanced meals that help protect child from lead such as lean meat, eggs, raisins, greens, milk, potatoes.
- Inform others about the hazards of lead.

Office of Child Abuse Prevention (OCAP)
Tel: 405/271-7611

The mission of the OCAP is to promote the health and safety of children and families by reducing violence and child maltreatment through public education, multidisciplinary training of professionals with responsibilities for children and families, and the funding of community-based child abuse prevention programs. The OCAP provides primary (statewide promotion of child abuse prevention), secondary (community-based child abuse prevention programs-CBCAP), and tertiary (training professionals on the identification and reporting of child maltreatment) prevention services. CBCAP programs are designed to assist families at risk of child abuse and neglect through strength-based services; the goal is to enhance a family’s abilities to care for itself, produce healthy members and to reduce social isolation.

Child Guidance services are available through local county health departments in the following counties: Bryan, Canadian, Carter, Cleveland, Comanche, Garfield, Kay, LeFlore, Muskogee, Oklahoma, Payne, Pittsburg, Pottawatomie, Rogers, Tulsa, and Texas counties. http://www.ok.gov/health/County_Health_Departments/
Purpose. To improve the lives of children with special needs and their families through interdisciplinary preventive and rehabilitative services, research, and training. A free-standing outpatient facility at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center (OHSC), the Child Study Center (CSC) is within and is administered by the Department of Pediatrics. The CSC:

- Works with the Center for Child Abuse and Neglect and expanded the focus to include children experiencing abuse and neglect;
- Provides training opportunities for future health care providers such as pediatric residents, psychologists, and students from several disciplines;
- Partners with the Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental and Related Disabilities program to provide family-centered care;
- Provides evaluation, treatment, and services for children with a wide range of disabilities and environmental problems such as: ADHD, autism, behavior problems, neuropsychological impairment resulting from seizures, traumatic brain injury, and other neurological disorders, language and speech disorders, learning disabilities, and other problems.

Several programs and clinics are conducted by staff that includes developmental and behavioral pediatricians, child psychologists, a child psychiatrist, a psychological clinician, a speech-language pathologist, and a physical therapist. Ongoing research is part of several programs.

Child Study Center – School Support Services (SSS)
Dianne Mathis, Program Coordinator
Tel: 405/271-5700, Ext. 45143

The SSS builds a network of supports to assist local school districts in implementing programs for children with disabilities, primarily in educating those with autism, ADHD, and challenging behaviors. Responsibilities include:

- Professional Development including advanced training in evidence-based practices, screening and assessment, and training of trainers;
- Technical Assistance in on-site consultation, mentoring network, and program evaluation and quality assurance planning;
- Individual Evaluations including psychological/neuropsychological, medical/neurological/psychiatric, independent educational evaluations, and speech/language and occupational therapy and physical therapy.

The CSC-SSS is involved in clinical services, research and model development and systems planning.
The Oklahoma Family Network (OFN) is Oklahoma’s parent-to-parent group for those who are rearing children with special needs. The OFN links trained mentors to family members in raising a child who has developmental delays, medical needs, or a disability. The two parent-to-parent divisions are the:

1) Neonatal Parents Network of Oklahoma where families give hope, and offer experience and resources as well as help families whose infants died during an NICU stay.
2) Special Parents Access Network which provides resources, information, education and emotional support for families with young children with special needs if the child is in SoonerStart or has transitioned out.

Children with Special Health Care Needs
The Children with Special Health Care Needs Program (405/521-3679) provides specialty services to children with special needs and their families. Some services included are neonate, specialty services for children diagnosed with sickle cell anemia, formula for children with PKU, outreach clinics in rural areas, and respite care services.

Supplemental Security Income – Disabled Child Program (SSI-DCP). The program assists children from birth to 18 years who receive Supplemental Security Income Disability payment (SSDI) to receive assistance in obtaining needed equipment and service including adaptive equipment and special formula from birth to 18 years. Apply at your local DHS office in each county. (www.okdhs.org/okdhslocal)

DHS has many programs and services to help persons with limited income.
Behavioral Health Department
Specific services needed for children in Oklahoma may not be available or accessible in the state. Medical care and coverage, typically related to behavioral health, may be obtained out-of-state. Usually, children placed out of state have a serious behavioral health disorder, along with a medical disorder or disability such as autism, brain injury, or hearing and vision impairment. When a child is in parental, DHS, or OJA custody and admission to an out-of-state facility is requested, the Oklahoma Health Care Authority (OHCA) must approve placement prior to the child’s admission to the facility. Procedures for requesting Oklahoma Health Care Authority approval are briefly described below.

For referral outside Oklahoma by OHCA, appropriate clinical resources in Oklahoma should be exhausted or non-existent.

- residential treatment for behavioral health treatment coordinated through APS Healthcare (Website: 222.soonerpro.com or Telephone: 1-800/762-1560);
- clinical information to APS Healthcare should include:
  o summary of treatment history, o recent psychiatric assessment/psychological testing/treatment plan/discharge summary, and o physician’s letter stating no clinically appropriate resources are available within the state.

- All information is reviewed by OHCA Behavioral Health prior to sending out materials to out-of-state provider for treatment consideration.

Complete guidelines may be obtained by calling 405/521-9700 or 1-800/762-1560. Inquiries about OHCA in regard to acute psychiatric care, residential behavioral health treatment, Therapeutic Foster Care Services or Group Home Services may be made to Jolene.Ring@okhca.org.
The State Department of Education is responsible for all phases of State Public School Education and Special Education. Within the services are various functions such as child nutrition programs, teacher certification, school finance, school transportation, reading, student testing, gifted/talented, adult community education, literacy, Indian education, and multicultural programs.

The material presented here is a summary of the most relevant information for students, parents, and teachers to navigate through the system of special education or special services that may be needed for children with disabilities or special needs. The source is Policies and Procedures for Special Education in Oklahoma, a publication of the Oklahoma State Department of Education.

Special Education Services  Central Telephone Number: 405/521-3301

Under Federal Regulations, 34 CFR .300.1, all children with disabilities are ensured to have available to them a free appropriate public education that emphasizes special education and related services designed to meet their unique needs and prepare them for employment and independent living, ensure the rights and protections of children with disabilities and their parents; and to assist public agencies in the provision of special education and related services. Policies and procedures are in place to ensure that all eligible children with disabilities, ages 3 through 21 years who are residents of Oklahoma, have available to them a free appropriate public education, except as provided in 34 CFR SS 300.122 (a) and (3), and 300.311 and as mandated by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

Child with a Disability: A child evaluated as having developmental delay, hearing impairment, speech or language impairment, visual impairment, serious emotional disturbance, orthopedic impairment, autism, traumatic brain injury, any other health impairment, specific learning disability, deaf-blindness, or multiple disabilities who needs special education and related services.

Federal and State laws and regulations require that a broad range of services are available to any child through age 21 years, as long as the child has not graduated from high school. Needs are assessed and an Individualized Education Program (IEP) decided upon by a multidisciplinary team. Services provided may include: speech and language services, physical therapy, occupational therapy, mobility training, assistive technology, hearing, vision, sensory and behavioral assistance, vocational skills, and transition planning.
Special Education Services

If you or the teacher believes your child may have a disability, federal and Oklahoma laws, policies and procedures are followed to determine need for special education (or special help). Each public school complies with state laws and the federal regulations for IDEA. Special education and related services include preschool, elementary, and secondary school education provided in conformity with the Individualized Education Program requirements for eligible children and are provided under public supervision, at public expense, and without charge.

State and Local Responsibility

Public Schools. Local public school districts, legally established and recognized in the state for public elementary and secondary education, are local educational agencies.

Public Schools:
make agreements with Special Education Services to assure that children with disabilities have access to free and appropriate public education;
share financial responsibilities with noneducational public agencies, such as the Oklahoma Health Care Authority, in providing education and special services; are responsible for providing free and appropriate public education to all eligible children with disabilities, age 3-21 years, who are legal residents of the school district, including children who have been suspended or expelled from school;
ensure that this obligation begins no later than the child’s third birthday and an individual education program is in effect by that date, as appropriate.
An eligible child has a right to education and completion of a secondary education program with a standard high school diploma.

Individuals over the age of 21 years and under 26 years who are legal residents of a school district in Oklahoma may be entitled to receive educational privileges and opportunities in order to complete a secondary education program when they have been unable to complete the 12th grade due to physical disability or military service.
   o Persons 19 years or older who are not enrolled in a high school program and have not completed the 12th grade, may attend adult high school completion programs which have been established by school districts and approved by the OSDE.

Child Find

Public schools, in collaboration with other public agencies and community resources at the local, county, or regional level, are required under 34 CFR 300.7 to locate, identify, and evaluate each child with established or suspected disability conditions – regardless of the severity of disability – from birth through 21 years of age, who are or are not enrolled in school, Head Start, State institutions, and other child care or treatment facilities, including migrant and homeless children.
Special Education and Department of Rehabilitation Services (DRS)
Vocational Rehabilitation – Transition for Students
(Source: Special Education Services, Department of Education)

The transition of a student receiving special education services is an important process that will help the child progress through life; communication and discussion among students, parents and teachers are essential. Successful transition involves specific activities of Special Education (SE) and DRS-VR staff. When a student is referred by a special education teacher to DRS at age sixteen or younger the DRS information packet should be provided to the student and/or parent. The instruction sheet for the referral form and packet explains the process and use of materials. A brief description of the process is given below. For complete information, contact Special Education Services at 405/522-1461 or 405/521-3351.

Description of Process.
1. The SE teacher:
   a. Completes the DRS referral form;
   b. Requests the parent or student (if 18 years of age) to sign a consent form for release of information to DRS;
   c. Provides information packet to parent and student including a DRS brochure and information sheet and contact information for DRS offices statewide.
   d. Sends referral form to Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) or Visual Services (VS) of local school district.

2. Parents and Student:
   a. They need to contact the DRS VR/VS Counselor to set an appointment to complete application.

3. The DRS VR/VS Counselor:
   a. Determines eligibility of student for DRS services after application and referral received.
   b. Will contact student once eligibility as been determined.
   c. If eligible, student and parent will meet with VR counselor to develop an Individual Plan of Employment (IPE)
   d. When IPE is completed, the referral form is completed and a copy of the IPE and referral form sent to the special education teacher.
   e. Participates in transition planning by attending the IEP meeting, prior conversations, other communications/information exchange.
   f. Provides expertise in the following areas:
      i. Vocational and prevocational job training
      ii. Agency linkages for transition services
      iii. DRS services
      iv. Vocational goals
      v. Needed transition service
      vi. Integrated employment
      vii. Postsecondary education

Participation of the VR/VS Counselor in IEP meetings for transition planning is facilitated by the SE teacher and the district.
Birth through Two Years: SoonerStart

Child identification, location, and evaluation of children birth through 2 years is conducted in cooperation with other State and publicly funded agencies and the SoonerStart Early intervention Program administered by the OSDE as the lead agency. Through statewide child find efforts the children are referred to the Regional Early Intervention Unit serving the region where the child resides. The Oklahoma Early Intervention Act provides for SoonerStart to be a comprehensive, coordinated, multidisciplinary, and interagency service system delivered by the OSDE, State Department of Health, State Department of Human Services, Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, and other publicly funded services for infants and toddlers.

SoonerStart is the program for children (birth to 36 months) who have developmental delays, and their families. Sometimes children have special needs or health issues that may put them at risk for a developmental delay. Given that the earlier a child with disabilities receives resources intervention and resources the better the outcome, services are provided to help the child’s development, provide support and assistance to the family, and to maximize their benefit to society. SoonerStart is designed to help families maximize their child’s potential. Parents and service providers are partners in developing and implementing a program to achieve the best possible results for the child. SoonerStart can provide developmental screenings, evaluation, assessment, and early intervention. Children with disabilities who receive these services are reported to show significant developmental progress in one to two years, and families have increased ability to work with their child.

Eligibility Requirements. To meet eligibility criteria for SoonerStart, an infant or toddler must have at least one area of 50% delay (or 2 standard deviations) or two areas of 25% delay (or 1.5 standard deviations) and be younger than 36 months.

Services Available. SoonerStart services are provided by qualified personnel including child development specialists, nurses, occupational therapists, physical therapists, registered dieticians, resource coordinators, speech and language pathologists, social workers and many others. Depending on the child’s needs, one or a combination of the following services are offered.

- Assistive technology services
- Audiology (hearing)
- Early identification with screening, evaluation, and assessment services
- Family training, counseling, and home visits
- Medical services only for diagnostic or evaluation purposes
- Service Coordination for infants, toddlers and/or their families
- Nutrition services
- Occupational therapy
- Physical therapy
- Psychological services
- Social work services
- Nursing services
- Special instruction
- Speech-language pathology
- Vision services
Where Services are Provided. Services are provided in the family’s home or other natural environment through an Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP) based on the child’s delay, family priorities, resources, and concerns. The team consists of service providers with various expertise needed for each child. A transdisciplinary approach is used, which involves a high degree of collaboration between various providers and families and requires the team members to share roles and systematically cross discipline boundaries. The primary purpose of this approach is to pool and integrate the expertise of all the service providers required by the child’s IFSP so that more efficient and comprehensive assessment and intervention services may be provided.

Transition of Children from Part C to Part B
The transition from SoonerStart to preschool special education and related services is initiated by the SoonerStart Early Intervention Unit (EIU) 6-12 months prior to a child’s third birthday. The EIU notifies the child’s public school, with parental permission, for initiating transition planning conferences. If enough evaluation data is available, another evaluation is not necessary to determine eligibility and if eligible to develop an IEP.

By the child’s third birthday, the public school shall:
- determine whether the referred child is eligible in accordance with Oklahoma’s criteria for developmental delay for services under Part B of IDEA;
- develop and implement an IEP in accordance with State policies and procedures for special education; and
- assure that Part B prior notice and parent consent requirements are met and that parents have available the rights and protections under Part B.

Three through Twenty-one Years
Public schools are also responsible for child find activities which include public awareness, location, and screening of children aged 3-21 years through cooperative efforts with other local and statewide public and private resources, including the SoonerStart Program (Part C of IDEA) for children who will be transitioning at the third birthday. Public schools develop and maintain a comprehensive referral, evaluation and eligibility process for the identification of children with suspected disabilities and parents and teachers are informed of the procedures. Strict rules and regulations are followed regarding confidentiality, parental involvement and participation, and consent.

Screening assists public schools in identifying children who: may need a comprehensive evaluation that includes vision, hearing, and health screening programs; and who may require referrals for comprehensive evaluations, districtwide testing, and the Oklahoma School Testing Program.

Evaluation involves procedures used to determine if a child has a disability under IDEA and the nature and extent of the special education and related services that the child needs. Public schools are responsible for informing parents of their rights under the Federal Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and IDEA concerning personal identifiable information maintained in the annual child count.
The Oklahoma Areawide Service Information System (OASIS) helps the State and local schools in child find and referral for children with disabilities (1-800/426-2747) (Refer to State Agencies in the Directory)

Reevaluation
In accordance with IDEA, Oklahoma has an ongoing goal of providing full educational opportunity for children with disabilities through Part C policies and procedures established for early intervention services (children with disabilities aged birth to 2 years, and Part B policies and procedures for special education and related services for children with disabilities ages 3 to 21 years.

Section 504 Complaint Process
The following is an overview of how Housing and Urban Development (HUD) processes complaints filed by individuals who have experienced disability discrimination under the law called Section 504. Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act protects you from discrimination in HUD-funded programs for which you qualify, and is commonly called "Section 504." This overview of the Section 504 complaint process contains citations to 24 CFR 8.1-8.58. These are references to specific sections of the Code of Federal Regulations that contain HUD's regulations for Section 504. These HUD regulations set forth more specific rules with respect to how Section 504 applies to various HUD-assisted programs.

What is a Complaint?
A complaint is a communication alleging discrimination on the basis of disability and in some way asking for HUD's assistance in resolving the problem. It may range from a verbal communication (which is later put in writing) to a complaint submitted on either the old HUD-903 Complaint Form, or on the new HUD Housing Discrimination Information Form. The complaint should contain:

- the complainant's name and address;
- the name and address of the individual or organization (usually the recipient of federal assistance) alleged to have discriminated; and
- a description of the discriminatory actions and the date of those actions. [24 CFR 8.56(c)(5)]

The complaint may be amended fairly and reasonably at any time to clarify or amplify the allegation. [24 CFR 8.56(c)(6)]

Although a complaint will contain the name of the complainant, HUD will keep the identity of the complainant confidential unless it has written authorization from the complainant to release it, or except as necessary to carry out the purpose of the Section 504 regulations, including the enforcement provisions. [(24 CFR 8.56(c)(2)]

When Must a Complaint be Filed?
Under Section 504, a complaint must be filed within 180 days of the alleged act of discrimination unless HUD waives this time limit for good cause shown. The complaint is deemed received on the date HUD actually receives it or, if mailed, on the date it is postmarked. [24 CFR 8.56(c)(3)]

Who May File a Complaint?
Any individual who believes he or she has been discriminated against on the basis of disability by a recipient of Federal financial assistance, his or her representative, or a member of a class of persons so situated, or the authorized representative of a member of that class. [24 CFR 8.56(c)(1)]
Key Provisions and Regulations Implementing Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act
Title V Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act provides for nondiscrimination in all programs, services and activities receiving federal financial assistance; and in programs, services and activities conducted by Executive agencies. This section focuses on Section 504, and on HUD’s regulations implementing Section 504 in federally assisted programs services and activities. These regulations are codified at 24 CFR Part 8.

Section 504 states:
“No otherwise qualified individual with a disability in the United States... shall, solely by reason of her or his disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program, service or activity receiving Federal financial assistance or under any program or activity conducted by any Executive agency or by the United States Postal Service.” HUD’s regulations at 24 CFR Part 8 apply to all applicants for, and recipients of, HUD financial assistance in the operation of programs or activities receiving such assistance.

Individual with Disabilities Defined
HUD’s Section 504 regulations define an individual with a disability as any person who has a physical or mental disability that substantially limits one or more major life activities; has a record of such an impairment; or is regarded as having such an impairment [24 CFR 8.3]. Major life activities include walking, talking, hearing, seeing, breathing, learning, performing manual tasks, and caring for oneself. The law also applies to individuals who have a history of such impairments as well as those who are perceived as having such impairment. A person who meets the above definition, and who is otherwise qualified for the program, service or activity, is covered under Section 504. To be otherwise qualified means the

Recipient Defined
The regulations define “recipient” as any state or its political subdivision, any instrumentality of a State or its political subdivision, any public or private agency, institution, organization, or other entity, or any person to which federal financial assistance is extended for any program or activity directly or through another recipient, including any successor, assignee, or transferee of a recipient, but excluding the ultimate beneficiary of the assistance. An entity or person receiving housing assistance payments from a recipient on behalf of eligible families under a housing assistance payments program or a voucher program is not a recipient or sub-recipient merely by virtue of receipt of such payments.

Section 504 Coverage
Section 504 covers all programs, services and activities of recipients of HUD financial assistance, including, for example:

- Outreach and public contact, including contact with program applicants and participants
- Eligibility criteria
- Application process
- Admission to the program
- Tenancy, including eviction
- Service delivery
- Employment policies and practices

HUD effects compliance with Section 504 through two primary means:

1. HUD may initiate a compliance review of all aspects of the recipient’s program, services and activities, and
2. HUD investigates complaints of discrimination filed by individuals with disabilities who allege discriminatory behavior in violation of Section 504 by a recipient. In the latter case, HUD’s investigation focuses on the issues raised by the complainant, but HUD may seek to address the interests of other persons similarly situated and the public interest. While one desirable outcome of the complaint process is the complainant’s satisfaction, this is not the primary goal. HUD’s primary goal is to assure compliance with Section 504 by recipients of HUD assistance. Thus, while HUD will always encourage the complainant and the recipient to resolve their differences voluntarily, HUD may not close a case once its investigation has begun until it has ascertained that the recipient is in compliance with the law and that it will not discriminate against other persons with disabilities who are similarly situated. HUD will not require the complainant’s consent to any voluntary agreement it reaches with the recipient although every effort will be made to protect the complainant’s interests and to remedy the effects of the discrimination.
Section 504 Frequently Asked Questions

These questions and answers focus on the requirements of one specific law, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended. This law often is called simply "Section 504." Section 504 is not the only law that prohibits disability discrimination in programs receiving HUD funds or financial assistance. Other Federal laws that provide nondiscrimination on the basis of disability include the Fair Housing Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Architectural Barriers Act. We encourage persons with disabilities and recipients of HUD assistance to review all these laws by returning to HUD's "People with Disabilities" Web site.

General

Question: What is Section 504?
Answer: Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 states: "No otherwise qualified individual with a disability in the United States shall, solely by reason of her or his disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program, service or activity receiving federal financial assistance or under any program or activity conducted by any Executive agency or by the United States Postal Service." (29 U.S.C. §794). This means that Section 504 prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in any program or activity that receives financial assistance from any federal agency, including the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as well as in programs conducted by federal agencies including HUD.

Question: Are there regulations that explain what needs to be done in order to comply with Section 504?
Answer: Yes. HUD's regulations for Section 504 that apply to federally assisted programs may be found in the Code of Federal Regulations at 24 CFR Part 8. There are also regulations that govern Section 504 in programs conducted by HUD which may be found at 24 CFR Part 9, however, this Web site focuses on Section 504’s requirements for federally assisted programs, services and activities.

Question: Who is protected by the Law?
Answer: Persons with disabilities.

Question: How is disability defined?
Answer: An individual with a disability is any person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. The term "physical or mental impairment" may include, but is not limited to, conditions such as visual or hearing impairment, mobility impairment, HIV infection, mental retardation, drug addiction (except current illegal use of or addiction to drugs), or mental illness. The term "major life activity" may include seeing, hearing, walking, breathing, performing manual tasks, caring for oneself, learning, speaking, or working. Section 504 also protects persons who have a record of such impairment, or are regarded as having such an impairment.
Question: Who are "recipients of federal financial assistance"?

Answer: The Section 504 regulations define "recipient" as any State or its political subdivision, any instrumentality of a state or its political subdivision, any public or private agency, institution organization, or other entity or any person to which federal financial assistance is extended for any program or activity directly or through another recipient, including any successor, assignee, or transferee of a recipient, but excluding the ultimate beneficiary of the assistance. 24 CFR 8.3. Thus, a HUD funded public housing authority, or a HUD funded nonprofit developer of low income housing is a recipient of federal financial assistance and is subject to Section 504's requirements. However, a private landlord who accepts Section 8 tenant-based vouchers in payment for rent from a low income individual is not a recipient of federal financial assistance. Similarly, a family that receives Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) or HOME funds for the rehabilitation of an owner-occupied unit is also not a recipient because it is the ultimate beneficiary of the funds.

HUD's Office of Community Planning and Development (CPD), in consultation with national veteran service organizations, has established a Veteran Resource Center (HUDVET). CPD's goal is to provide veterans and their family members with information on HUD's community-based programs and services. It is hoped that equipped with this knowledge, armed forces personnel and veterans can become more involved in the community-based planning and decision-making process as well as utilization of services and local resources. In addition to its special focus on veterans who are homeless, HUDVET is also a source of information on other HUD and related federal programs, such as those to combat domestic violence, enhance community and economic development, aid runaway youth, and increase affordable housing for senior citizens and Americans with disabilities. Community Planning and Development promote programs that provide housing, a suitable living environment, and expanded economic opportunities for low and moderate-income persons in Oklahoma.

Purpose. The number 2-1-1 is a free number that connects people with important community services ranging from accessing physical and mental health resources, human service agencies, and disaster-related information. These agencies include:

- Basic human needs resources (food banks, rent and utility assistance);

The number may be dialed from any phone in 36 Oklahoma counties and will be answered at all times. If calling from a rotary dial telephone or large phone system such as PBX, access 2-1-1 services through the 10-digit telephone numbers listed below. In counties where 2-1-1 is not available, residents should contact the Red Cross or local management officials for assistance.

Community Action Agencies

Community Action Agencies in Oklahoma provide numerous services to the people in their locality. The “Rx for Oklahoma” Prescription Drug Program is one important service for all people in Oklahoma, including those with limitations and disabilities.

Rx for Oklahoma Prescription Assistance Program.
A statewide program initiative for Oklahomans who are uninsured, underinsured, medically indigent, low income or have high prescription co-pays; they may receive eligible prescriptions from drug manufacturer sponsored prescription assistance. The Oklahoma Department of Commerce is a major sponsor. It is not a program for short term or emergency medications. Program hours are normally from 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. or 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Website: www.okcommerce.gov/Grants-And-Funding/To-Help-Pay-Prescriptions

How the Program Works:
1. Obtain an application from your regional processing center, complete and either mail or bring it to address on top of application.
2. When the regional processing center receives the application, the prescribed medications are matched with the appropriate patient assistance form from the pharmaceutical companies (180 forms).
3. Specific applications are either mailed to patient or can be picked up for signature and other needed information.
4. Patient takes the application to their doctor for signature and prescription slip.
5. Patient mails or brings signed application to local office; they check for completeness and send application to the pharmaceutical company.
6. If drug maker approves the application, the medicine is received in 4-6 weeks (may be mailed to home, doctor’s office or given a drug card to get medicine at a pharmacy. Many companies send 90 days supply of medicine.

A person must have a primary care physician and a copy of the most recent tax return or Social Security statement. Some medications are free; others may cost $20/$30.

Medical Equipment

There are many businesses that sell or rent a wide array of medical equipment. The yellow pages of the telephone book are a principal source of these businesses; others are independent living centers, some churches, and people who no longer need wheelchairs, crutches, or other equipment. Many companies will provide used equipment for rent or low cost.
Developmental Disabilities Services Division Group Homes
(DDSD OF DHS)

Function: Provides group home services for persons with developmental disabilities or who sustained a traumatic brain injury before age 22 years. Persons’ eligibility is determined during the Intake process. (Usually people on SSI are eligible). There are four types of group homes with numbers of residents varying from 4-6 people per home to 40-50. The group homes belong to and are operated by private and some non-profit organizations; clients and families may select the home they want. Traditional group homes are those where residents work in the community. The DDSD group homes and contact numbers are listed below.
