

Washington County
Washington County Turning Point
2004

At a Glance

Some people go to the right and some go to the left. It is about finding the path that fits the individual, but if they Walk This Weigh they might just find it in Bartlesville on the new trails. Pedometers have become a local fashion, and the county is embracing health and fitness as a daily routine. While most use their feet to lead them around the town, others use their bicycle as a means for physical fitness.

Key Activities of 2005
