

Aisha Shah is the deputy director for outreach at the Oklahoma Democratic Party. Her training is in public health and she has an MPH from the University of Oklahoma. She worked at the Oklahoma State Department of Health for 4 -1/2 years. Currently she is enrolled in the Doctorate of Public Health (DrPH) program at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center. Aisha's interests include public policy development, and administration, which she plans to utilize in her future bid to run for public office.