DEPARTMENT OF LABOR NAMES DUSTY PRINGNITZ AS SENIOR BOILER INSPECTOR

OKLAHOMA CITY –Safety Standards Director Tom Monroe announced Friday, effective June 1, 2011, Safety Standards Boiler Inspector Dusty Pringnitz was named Senior Boiler Inspector.

Mr. Pringnitz started with the Department of Labor in March 1996 as a Safety Consultant in OSHA. In April of 2001 he transferred to the Safety Standards Division as a Boiler Inspector. He received his National Board of Boiler and Pressure Vessel Certification in June of that same year.

In August of 2009 Dusty was certified as a Team Leader for the National Board of Boiler Inspector and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Dusty resides in Kingfisher with his wife Sherry and children Morgan and Jacob.

Director Tom Monroe stated, “We are very proud to have Dusty as the new Senior Boiler Inspector, his attention to detail and his dedication to the Department of Labor is unsurpassed.”
