*Our May 17, 2011 meeting will feature
Jim Priest who will present:*

“Are You Under the Influence?

Why Employers Should Be Concerned about Substance Abuse and What You Can Do About it (legally)”

Alcohol and Drug Abuse in the workplace used to get more attention than it currently does. Is that because things have improved so much? Clearly the answer is no. This presentation will be the spoon that stirs the conversation about what employers should and can do to insure their workplace is free from alcohol and drug abuse and addiction. Here's what you'll get: New information. Practical insights. Witty observations. Audience participation. Come early, stay late and bring a friend.

Jim Priest has practiced law in Oklahoma for over thirty years and has been consistently recognized as one of the best layers in the nation. Over his three decades of practicing law, Jim has handled thousands of civil lawsuits involving police misconduct, employment discrimination, sexual harassment and wrongful discharge. He has tried nearly a hundred lawsuits in the state and federal courts and has argued many cases before the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals. He currently maintains a law practice with the Edmond law firm of Rubenstein and Pitts. Jim is a graduate of the Syracuse University School of Law.
