Why is the WOTC a Great Opportunity for Employers?

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act) is intended to preserve and create jobs, promote the nation's economic recovery and assist those most affected by the recession.

It is the intent of Congress that Recovery Act funds for employment and training be used to greatly increase the capacity of the workforce system to serve workers in need.

The WOTC reduces an employer's cost of doing business and requires little paperwork. The success and growth of this income tax credit for private-sector businesses depends on a strong public- and private-sector partnership. Helping those in need find and retain jobs and gain on-the-job experience benefits all employers and increases America's economic growth and productivity.

THE BOTTOM LINE

- Employers make the hiring decision.
- There is no limit to the number of new hires who can qualify the employer for the tax savings.
- There is minimal paperwork needed to claim the WOTC.

WHAT'S NEW?

The Recovery Act of 2009 introduced two new target groups: 1) Unemployed Veterans and 2) Disconnected Youth, who begin to work for an employer on or after January 1, 2009 and before September 17, 2009.

HOW TO FIGURE THE WOTC...

For most target groups, the WOTC can be as much as $2,400. It is based on qualified wages paid to the new employee for the first-year of employment. Generally, qualified wages are capped at $6,000. The credit is 25% of qualified first-year wages for those employed at least 120 hours and 40% for those employed 400 hours or more.

For Disabled Veterans, the WOTC can be as much as $4,800 with qualified wages capped at $12,000. For Long-Term TANF Recipients the tax credit can be as much as $9,000, with qualified wages capped at $10,000 for a combined two-year period. For Summer Youth the WOTC can be as much as $750 during the 90-day period of employment with wages capped at $3,000. To qualify employers for the WOTC, the new hire must begin work after December 31, 2005 and before September 1, 2011.
