Effective Date: U.S. Bank will require a COVID-19 Borrower Attestation be included in all loan files beginning with loans closed on and after May 13, 2020.

We recognize that the COVID-19 pandemic has disrupted daily life and has far-reaching personal and economic consequences. We want to ensure borrowers have sustainable homeownership and have the ability to repay their mortgage. The recently passed federal CARES Act provides forbearance protections for certain federally backed mortgages. Mortgages eligible for those forbearance are those:

- purchased or securitized by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac;
- insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA);
- guaranteed or insured by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA); or
- guaranteed or insured by the Department of Agriculture (USDA).

It is critical that borrowers understand that their new loan may not qualify for forbearance, and if it does, they will still have to make the payments that are deferred.

Please be advised, U.S. Bank sells loans on the secondary market, which does not occur immediately after our purchase of your loan. If a loan is pending purchase, it will not be eligible for forbearance until, if and when, it is purchased or insured/guaranteed by an entity covered by the CARES Act.

We comply with all federal requirements for all residential mortgage loans, including documenting the borrower’s/co-borrower’s ability to repay the loan, and we require that borrowers attest to the following statements.

1. You are not aware of any future changes in your employment status and/or income that will affect your ability to repay your loan.
2. The income documentation previously submitted by you to qualify for your loan is unchanged and not affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.

U.S. Bank has provided a sample COVID-19 Borrower Attestation (attached to this announcement) that can also be found in the Exhibit section of our guides. It is, however, acceptable to utilize an alternative attestation statement provided it contains the required information outlined above.

Clarification:

Mortgage Loans in Early Forbearance

U.S. Bank published SEL-2020-034 on April 27th outlining our alignment with Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac on their recent announcement regarding mortgage loans in early forbearance. Please note the following clarification specific to Conventional Cashout transactions:

- Conventional Cashout Transactions: Should any cash out transaction after purchase by U.S. Bank and prior to being federally backed go into forbearance, it will become ineligible and will be subject to repurchase.

We want to ensure you have sustainable homeownership and have the ability to repay your mortgage. The recently passed federal CARES Act provides forbearance protections for certain federally backed mortgages. Mortgages eligible for those forbearance are those:

It is critical that you understand that your new loan may not qualify for forbearance, and if it does, you will still have to make the payments that are deferred.

We sell our loans in the secondary market, which typically does not occur immediately after closing. If your loan is pending purchase, it will not be eligible for forbearance until if and when it is purchased or insured/guaranteed by an entity covered by the CARES Act. This process can take up to two months.

We comply with all federal requirements for all residential mortgage loans, including documenting the borrower’s/co-borrower’s ability to repay the loan, and we require that you attest to the following statements.
