

January 14, 2014

NIPR Security Updates

NIPR is currently scheduled to begin an update to the application security system on Saturday January 25, 2014. This update should not have an impact on the application; however, there is a possibility that the system could be affected. NIPR is advising if a license is expected to expire between January 25, 2014 and January 31, 2014, that the license renewal application is submitted before the scheduled January 25th update.

Please contact abpdirect@npr.com if you have any questions.