HealthChoice Medicare Supplement Plans With and Without Part D provide Creditable Coverage. Prescription drug coverage is called creditable if the plan meets or exceeds Medicare's prescription drug coverage guidelines.

The HealthChoice plans provide coverage that is equal to (the Low Option Plans) or better than (the High Option Plans) the standard benefits set by Medicare.

HealthChoice is a qualified prescription drug plan and is not required to send Creditable Coverage letters. However, if you need a Letter of Creditable Coverage, you can request one by contacting HealthChoice.
