Oklahoma Gross Receipts Continue Positive Trend

OKLAHOMA CITY – Oklahoma’s monthly gross receipts to the treasury report shows total state collections continued to rise in February, the fourth anniversary of the low point reached following the Great Recession, State Treasurer Ken Miller said today.

“Collections, as they did this month, have topped the same month of the prior year in 41 of the past 48 months,” Miller said. “The state’s gross receipts have grown by almost 25 percent in the last four years.”

Twelve-month gross receipts have expanded by $2.2 billion or more than 23 percent since exiting their trough in February 2009, eight months following the official end of the last national recession.

Miller said February receipts indicate the key value of the oil and gas industry to the state’s economy.

“Gross production collections are up by more than 10 percent for the month and reflect a 10th consecutive month of year-over-year growth in generated revenue,” he said.

Miller said the gross production revenue increase, which is based on production during December, can be credited primarily to moderate increases in price for the commodities.

Miller observed that corporate income tax and motor vehicle collections also jumped by double digits during February, but cautioned against reading too much into those numbers due to some non-economic factors.

“The 45 percent jump in corporate income tax collections simply exemplifies the wide variances we often see in month-to-month reporting of that revenue stream,” he said. “The nearly 20 percent increase in motor vehicle taxes is skewed due to an accounting anomaly that occurred during 2013 whereby collections were reported as being artificially low. The anomaly will continue through November.”
