Inflation Taking Toll on State Economy

OKLAHOMA CITY – Gross Receipts to the Treasury in May reflect the dampening effect of inflation on the Oklahoma economy, State Treasurer Randy McDaniel announced today.

May gross receipts of $1.3 billion are up 5 percent from a year ago, the slowest rate of growth in 10 months. The current annual inflation rate is 8.3 percent. Energy prices are up 30.3 percent over the year and food costs are up 9.4 percent, the largest increase since April 1981.

“Oklahoma is holding its own in a challenging economic environment,” Treasurer McDaniel said. “While unemployment remains low, equity returns have not recovered and inflation is taking a toll on everyone.”

Consumption taxes – sales and use tax receipts – grew by 5.9 percent in May, less than the current rate of inflation.

“When inflation outpaces revenue, buying power decreases,” said McDaniel. “Spending more to purchase the same things impacts all budgets, especially those of hard-working Oklahomans.”

Income tax collections dropped by almost 12 percent but this outcome is related to last year’s delayed filing deadline which increased 2021 collections. Motor vehicle receipts are up by 5.5 percent from the prior year and gross production collections in May are up significantly.

Twelve-month collections of $16.48 billion are up by $2.6 billion, or 18.8 percent, compared to the previous 12 months with all four major revenue streams showing growth.

Other indicators

The Oklahoma unemployment rate in April was reported as 2.7 percent by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. That is unchanged from March. The U.S. jobless rate was listed as 3.6 percent in April, also unchanged from March.

The monthly Oklahoma Business Conditions Index improved in May. The index for the month was set at 66.1, up from 65.8 in April. The outlook remains positive as numbers above 50 indicate expected expansion during the next three to six months.

About Gross Receipts to the Treasury

The monthly Gross Receipts to the Treasury report, developed by the state treasurer’s office, provides a timely and broad view of the state’s economy.

It is released in conjunction with the General Revenue Fund report from the Office of Management and Enterprise Services, which provides information to state agencies for budgetary planning purposes.

The General Revenue Fund, the state’s main operating account, receives less than half of the state’s gross receipts with the remainder apportioned to other state funds, remitted to cities and counties, and paid in rebates and refunds.
