All Major Revenue Streams Shrink in October
Gross Receipts to the Treasury

OKLAHOMA CITY – For a sixth consecutive month, Gross Receipts to the Treasury are lower than the same month of the prior year as every major revenue stream shows contraction in October, State Treasurer Ken Miller announced today.

Twelve-month Gross Receipts to the Treasury also reflect an economic pullback as collection totals are the lowest in 16 months.

“The spillover effect of low oil prices is seen throughout October’s report,” Miller said. “This is the first month that all major revenue streams have shown contraction since we began tracking Gross Receipts to the Treasury in March of 2011.”

Total Gross Receipts to the Treasury for October are $918.1 million, down by more than $95 million, or 9.4 percent, from October 2014.

As has been the case in 11 of the past 12 months, collections from oil and natural gas production taxes are down significantly for the month. October gross production collections are more than 56 percent lower than last October. Monthly receipts reflect oil field activity from August when the average price of benchmark West Texas Intermediate crude oil was $42.87 per barrel.

Motor vehicle tax collections are down by almost 8 percent for the month, while sales tax collections are off by more than 5 percent, and gross income taxes are down by more than 3 percent. Personal income tax receipts are below last October’s collections by more than 4 percent, while corporate income tax receipts, which often vary widely from month to month, are up by more than 23 percent.

Total 12-month collections are $11.76 billion, down by $188.8 million, or 1.6 percent from the trailing 12-month period.

During the 12 months, gross production tax collections are down by more than 38 percent and motor vehicle collections are off by almost 6 percent. Even though they are trending downward, gross income tax and sales tax collections remain growth positive over the 12 months, at 4.6 percent and 0.1 percent, respectively.

The national unemployment rate was set at 5.1 percent in September.

About Gross Receipts to the Treasury

Since March 2011, the Treasurer’s Office has issued the monthly Gross Receipts to the Treasury report, which provides a timely and broad view of the state’s macro economy.

It is provided in conjunction with the General Revenue Fund (GRF) allocation report from the Office of Management and Enterprise Services, which provides important information to state agencies for budgetary planning purposes.

The GRF receives just less than half of the state’s gross receipts with the remainder paid in rebates and refunds, remitted to cities and counties, and placed into off-the-top earmarks to other state funds.
